City bonds for plant's expansion

An enabling ordinance to permit the issuance of $5 million in industrial revenue bonds to help finance a $30 million expansion by Air Products & Chemicals, Inc., 2204 Monroe Ave., was placed on first reading by the Granite City Council Monday night.

Similar to other bond programs initiated during the past several years to assist industries and businesses in new building or expansion projects, the bonds will pose no direct liability to the city, officials said.

Under the revenue bond program, the facilities financed by such bonds are leased to the industry for which the bonds are issued and the proceeds are used to retire the bond principal and interest. The facilities themselves help assure payment.

The bond proceeds will be used to help finance construction of an air separation plant with a distribution terminal.

Council members were told it will be the first instance in which revenue bonds have been issued for construction work outside the city. Part of the new plant being built by Air Products will be outside the city limits.

Irvin Slate Jr., assistant city attorney, is preparing the agreements and other documents necessary for approval of the bond issue. The measure placed on first reading is a preliminary agreement and statement of intent and does not authorize the issuance of bonds, the aldermen were

No wrongdoing, Byron rules

Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas G. Byron ruled Tuesday evening that there was no criminal wrongdoing on the part of Granite City Attorney Lance Callis in collecting a fee for preparing a bond issue on low-interest mortgage bonds while he was being paid as city attorney.

Madison County Board Member Daniel Partney, Street Superintendent Lionel Portell and three Granite City aldermen, Charles Douglas, Lloyd Bailey and Mrs. Margaret Nonn, held a news conference Jan. 10 in which they alleged Callis should not have accepted a legal fee for preparing the home loan bond program, since he already was being paid as city attorney to do city business.

Partney and Douglas took numerous documents to Byron's office for study and requested he act on the documents. A principal contention by them was that a city officer is barred by state law from profiting from a city contract.

Byron issued a brief statement Wednesday morning, relating, "We have examined this matter completely. We find no criminal culpability." The dictionary defines "culpable" as "deserving blame or censure; blameworthy."

Byron said his office will not issue a written report on the Callis issue, since it is not within the realm of duties of the state's attorney's office.

"We feel this is all we can state on this matter. We do not render legal opinions to individuals from the public.

"It is within our duties to render an opinion to an attorney in a municipality

Surprise teachers' suit

A circuit court suit filed Tuesday afternoon by members of Local 743, American Federation of Teachers, seeks detailed financial records of Granite City School District Nine.

It was learned that the suit came as a surprise to school officials, since they have been providing all financial details requested of them. There was no official response because school attorneys have advised silence until they have time to review the suit.

A two-year agreement on teachers' pay and working conditions was ratified by Local 743 and by the Board of Education at the start of the 1979-80 school term, covering the period ending June 30, 1981.

However, no public announcement has been made that the union officers have signed the ratified pact.

The suit calls on the school system to disclose its financial records at a public hearing on the 1980-81 staff size, scheduled by the board for 7 p.m.

Silver buffalo award

By MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

Gene H. Sternberg Sr., president of G. H. Sternberg & Co., of Granite City, is scheduled to receive the Silver Buffalo Award, the highest award given a volunteer leader by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.

The announcement was made at the noon meeting today of the Granite City Optimist Club by William Monical, local Boy Scout executive.

GENE H. STERNBERG

Monical and Sternberg received notice of the award in a letter from Downing B. Jenks, president of the National Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The presentation of the award will be made at a national council meeting on Friday evening, May 23, in New Orleans, La.

Sternberg is the first volunteer of the Cahokia Mound Council ever to be awarded the Silver Buffalo and it will be the first one awarded to a volunteer in central or southern Illinois in the last several years.

Sternberg has been a member of Optimist International for 30 years and served as the service club's international president in 1968-69.

In scouting, he is proudest of the fact that he was the first person in the Cahokia Mound Council to rise from tenderfoot scout to council president.

Sternberg has received the Silver Beaver Award, the highest award given by a scout council, and the Silver Antelope Award, the highest award by a region (12-state area).

He is a member of the BSA national executive board and is chairman of the National Religious Relationships Committee.

On a regional level, he serves the BSA as vice-president of the North Central Region in charge of membership and relationships.

He served on the staff of the World Jamboree, Japan, 1971; an observer to the World Conference of Scouting,

New subdivision proposed in GC

By GARY SCHNEIDER
of the Press-Record

Plans for construction of multi-family dwelling units on Parkview Drive, in conjunction with construction of a Kinder Care Learning Center for children were presented to the Granite City Council Monday night and were referred to the city's Plan Commission for study.

SEMCO Corp., whose president is Stanley Lucas, asked the council to approve the preliminary plat for the Seventh Addition to Town and Country East subdivision, including the child care center.

Lots one through 16 would be occupied by four-family dwelling units. Lot 17 is for the Kinder Care center and Lot 18 would be used for a multi-family complexes (apartment building) under one owner, according to the documents presented to the council by M.B. Corlew & Associates, Edwardsville, engineers for the project.

Alderman Warren Decatur of the Fourth Ward questioned whether the plans had been reviewed by the Plan

Viaduct crash

With a sudden snowstorm striking as motorists were heading for work Wednesday morning, a spectacular four-vehicle collision occurred atop the icy McCambridge Avenue viaduct in Madison.

About three to four inches of snow fell here yesterday and there was light snow again this morning.

Visibility was limited and driving surfaces were hazardous due to the heavy snowfall.

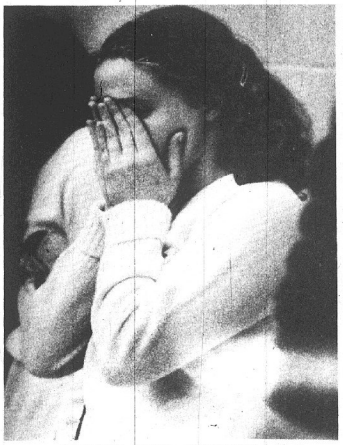

Four persons were treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center following the Army boat testing here

On or about March 30, and continuing through July 15, the U.S. Army Test and Evaluation Proving Ground will conduct a variety of operational and functional tests to evaluate small boat capability with respect to handling a float bridge.

The base of operations for this testing will be the Granite City Army Installation ramp, with the group assembling a 120-foot ribbon bridge raft, loading a class 60, 70, 80, or 96 vehicle on the raft, moving to the Mosenthein Chute area for rafting operations, and returning to the GCAI ramp for retrieval.

Lammert A. Buchhold, acting chief, Operations Division, St. Louis Engineer Corps District, says, "Testing will take place in and around the Mosenthein Chute area between miles 184 and 185.

"All efforts possible will be made not to interfere with river traffic in the main channel, and safety boats will be operating with raft missions to assist should the test boats lose power or have other difficulties.

"Radio communication (channel 16 or 22 VHF-FM) will be in use during the test to insure proper communication between test boats, river traffic and the Coast Guard.

"All vessel operations are advised to keep clear of the Mosenthein Chute area during this test period, since the maneuverability of the test boats will not be known until conclusion of the tests, and this could prove hazardous to anyone in the area."

HURT ON NAMEOKI

Bobby Tate, 29, Collinsville, was injured when a southbound auto beside his car on Nameoki Road at Bremen Avenue changed lanes and the two vehicles collided at 9:55 p.m. Tuesday. The driver of the other car, William Mosier, 2102 Bryan Ave., was charged with careless driving. Tate was treated at St. Elizabeth Medical Center for pain to his shoulder and he was released after X-rays were taken.

THEFT FROM PICKUP

The stereo radio-tape player, a fire extinguisher and two reflectors were stolen from the pickup truck of Charles Speece, 2208 Illinois Ave., parked at his home between Thursday and 8:10 p.m. Tuesday. A vent window was forced open to unlock the door.

Manpower business-labor program in region praised

An Ohio State University study has cited the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Private Industry Council as "the most ambitious instance in our 25 (study) sites," in a third evaluation report entitled A Formative Evaluation of the Private Sector Initiative Program, January 1980, prepared for the U.S. Department of Labor, Employment and Training Administration (CETA).

The Madison County, Ill., Office of Manpower Development is among the Private Industry Council participants.

The Private Industry Council's purpose is to increase business and labor participation in CETA's Private Sector Initiative Program, which is intended to increase employment opportunities for the economically disadvantaged.

According to the OSU report, "The PIC has defined strong marketing and promotional roles, created a regional sales organization for job development throughout the region, and helped the prime sponsorships to work jointly at both the planning and operational levels.

"It has also begun to assume an evaluation role in closely examing all prime sponsor operations (not just in PSIP's) for intake, assessment, training and referral."

The report credits the prime sponsors and the Regional Commerce and Growth Association for providing initiative for the development of the PIC, which is one year old this month.

PIC Chairman Duane D. Christensen, vice president, corporate communications, Maritz, Inc., said, "I was pleased to receive this highly favorable external evaluation. However, we have only just started.

"The true measure of success will be the extent to which the Private Sector Initiative Program satisfies business's manpower needs and proves to be a practical opportunity for the structurally unemployed."

RCGA President James M. O'Flynn commented, "This very positive confirmation of the Private Industry Council's successful development is another example of business and labor joining forces in partnership with local government in developing effective community programs to strengthen this metropolitan area's labor market and economic region."

Charged with leaving scene

Gary W. Crone, 30, of 1225 Madison Ave., Madison, was arrested at his home early Tuesday by Madison and Granite City police and was charged with leaving the scene of an accident, reckless driving and transportation of alcohol in his auto.

Witnesses alleged a car traveling west in the 2600 block of East 24th Street struck a parked vehicle belonging to General Electric Corp., St. Louis, pushing it backward into the parked car of David Presswood, 2622 E. 24th St.

The westbound auto then left the scene, leaving its front bumper and license plate at the accident scene, according to witnesses. Police ran a check on the license plate and alleged it was issued to Crone.

Madison and Granite City officers went to Crone's home and found a car in his driveway with extensive damage to the front end. Crone still was behind the steering wheel, the officers reported; they alleged there was an open can of beer in the car.

Bus survey March 18

Passengers on all local, rapid and express Bi-State bus lines will be asked to participate in a system-wide passenger traffic survey on Tuesday, March 18, Charles G. Houghton, executive director of the Bi-State Development Agency, has announced.

On Tuesday, passengers boarding buses will be handed a survey card by the operators and asked to fill in their answers. Some passengers will be given cards on their way to work in the morning, while others will receive one on their way home in the evening. Passengers are to complete only one survey card, regardless of the number of trips or transfers used daily. The completed cards can be dropped in a box at the front of the bus or mailed postage-free to Bi-State.

Wednesday final exams on Saturday

Final examinations were held as scheduled Wednesday at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville, but students who were unable to attend because of the snow and ice may take their examinations on Saturday.

Acting Vice President and Provost Earl Beard announced that final examinations scheduled for yesterday afternoon will be repeated Saturday at the same hours and places as originally scheduled.

Examinations for classes originally scheduled Wednesday evening will be repeated at the following times: 5:30 and 6:30 p.m. classes from 8 to 9:40 a.m. Saturday and 8:30 p.m. classes from 10 to 11:40 a.m. Saturday.

SIUE students are looking forward to a week of vacation before they begin the spring quarter Monday, March 24.

Winter quarter final examinations are scheduled to be completed Saturday, and a number of university buildings will be operating on a limited schedule March 17-22.

Lovejoy Library will be open weekdays during the period, from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m., but it will be closed on the weekends, March 15-16 and 22-23.

For the convenience of students planning to attend classes during the spring quarter, Textbook Services, located in the library, will remain open Saturday, March 22, from 7:30 a.m. until noon.

Regular hours in all university buildings will resume March 24 at 7 a.m.

Information about specific events scheduled during the spring break period is available by calling the University Information Center, 692-2739.

News notes

Bi-State Development agency officials are discussing boosting the basic bus fare from 25 to 50 cents and will push for effective air-conditioning in all buses. A new bus garage in Madison County may not be built for several years. A bus survey of all passengers is to be taken Tuesday, March 18.

School candidates address Democrats

Five of the announced candidates for the Granite City Board of Education addressed the Granite City Democratic Club last night in the Knights of Columbus Hall. The election will be April 12.

Among the speakers was Bob Maxwell, who filed his nominating petition Tuesday. Maxwell is general supervisor of training and development for Granite City Steel and is a former teacher and assistant principal of Prather Junior High School. He also directed the district vocational education program for two and one-half years.

Maxwell said the education and experiences the children will receive in school are his prime concern. He also seeks a school district which is efficiently operated to save taxpayer dollars.

Larry Melton, who has not yet filed for the school board, told the club he will be a candidate and will stress good management and supervision to fulfill the board's obligation to the taxpayers and students, without excessive spending.

Another candidate who has not yet filed his nominating petitions, Kenneth Taft, said he participated in recent public visits to the schools and was upset over the condition of come of the schools, particularly Wilson School where the roof is leaking and where roaches were found. He said he would work to improve the condition of the district's buildings.

School Board President Donald Stucke, who is seeking re-election, said the citizens' committee which toured the schools was formed for that reason—to find problems in the schools and bring the problems to the board's attention. He said the school board may have to resort to a bond issue for funds to repair the schools, unless other solutions can be found.

Incumbent Board Member Dewey Melton, brother of Larry Melton, said he feels he has served the district for the past three years to the best of his ability and has maintained a good attendance record. He also used his personal vacation time to tour the schools with the public and committee, he said.

Unable to attend were incumbent George Moore Sr., who is seeking re-election, and Donald Gargac, 4566 Edwardsville Road, an employee of the U.S. Defense Mapping Agency, who has filed his petitions of candidacy.

The Democratic Club also heard the two local candidates for the Belleville Area College. The BAC election will be held simultaneously with the Granite City School Board election.

Avery Schermer, who is serving on the BAC Board by appointment said he is very familiar with college operations, having been a student and a teacher at St. Louis University and Southern Illinois University. Avery seeks election to a three-year term.

Mike Hildebrand, who is seeking election to a one-year term, said he is running because he feels Granite City and the Quad-City area needs local representation on the BAC Board, since a large part of the school's operating budget comes from this area.

The deadline for filing in the school election is Friday, March 21.

Big phone service investment in past year by Ill. Bell

Illinois Bell invested nearly $634 Million to maintain and improve day-to-day telecommunications during 1979, President Charles Marshall said in the company's annual report, released Tuesday.

"Illinois Bell entered the 1970s as 'the telephone company.' Today we are much more than that. We enter the 1980s as leaders in the handling of information — a market virtually exploding with new opportunities for our professional and technological capabilities," Marshall said.

He reported 8,366,000 telephones in service at the end of the year, with calling volumes averaging some 32,497,000 conversations a day, and net income of $259,306,000 for 1979.

At the end of the year, Illinois Bell had 39,138 active employees and 13,610 pensioners.

Total employee compensation for the year amounted to $1,084,208,686 in 1979, topping the $1 billion mark for the first time. It consisted of $818.4 million in salary and wage payments, $215.6 million in non-payroll benefits and $50.2 million in company Social Security taxes.

Girl Scout Week observed in Quad-Cities

Girl Scouts plan new pin

"One of the reasons why Girl Scouts of the USA is the world's largest voluntary organization for girls is because it stays contemporary with changing roles of girls and women in a changing world," in the opinion of Diane R. Busch of the River Bluffs Girl Scout Council.

"This has been most recently evidenced by a change nationwide to a new Girl Scout pin for its membership," she comments.

"The pin shows us a new look — while reaffirming the timeless values — with a striking new emblem.

"The trefoil pin, which has identified Girl Scouts for almost 66 years, has been redesigned to show a pattern of girls' faces. The words 'Girl Scouts' appears boldly below the faces.

"The faces show youth, vitality, diversity and an orientation toward the future.

"The trefoil shape stands for the three parts of the Girl Scout promise, which has influenced the lives of more than 40 million girls and adults who have belonged to this movement since 1912.

"The membership pin will be available this fall for girl and adult members with the exception of Brownies, who have their own pin.

Thinking Day hosted by Neighborhood V

Approximately 400 Girl Scouts and parents celebrated Thinking Day 1980 at the Granite City Township Hall.

The evening was opened by Neighborhood-Chairman Margot Clements welcoming scouts, leaders, parents and family members.

The traditional flag ceremony by Senior Troop 180 followed. Special guests of the evening were school organizers Katie Wilson, Mary Brown, Joyce Churchwell, Vivian Byer, Secretary Nancy Pelikan and Registrar Mary Gregus.

A parade of 50 international flags followed to acquaint all with some of the countries in which there are Girl Scouts and Girl Guides.

Mitchell School chose as their theme Mexico and Brownie Troops 581, 772 and 1177 demonstrated a "Mexican hat dance."

Junior troops 61 and 210 dressed as senors and senoritas performed a Mexican-American dance. To conclude the girls tossed flowers into the audience.

Holland was chosen by the girls from Johnson School. Brownies of Troops 419 and 296 dressed as Dutch girls holding tulips in their hands, sang "What did I See." Junior Troops 321 and 316 sang "The Little Dutch Girl" with actions.

An international fashion show followed with Gail Newberry dressed in a traditional Philippineo dress; Mary Brown, Kathy Barnhardt, Mary Gregus and Peggy Newberry modeled Philippineo dress; Mary Brown, Kathy Barnhardt, Mary Gregus and Peggy Newberry modeled Philippineo kimonos.

Judy Worhol, Priscilla Clements and Connie Baugh dressed in German drinal dresses; Dianne Baker modeled a Russian outfit and Linda Kondrich modeled a Polish ensemble.

Two Mexican Geno-vitas, Jeanine Robles and Michelle Kondrich appeared. Barbara Reuter and Katie Wilson finished the show dressed as Indian Squaws.

St. Elizabeth's Brownie Troops 216 and 942 were next in the program presenting a medley of folk songs. Junior Troops 196, 663 and 314 followed with a square dance.

The Nameoki School theme was France with Brownie Troops 876 and 1071 singing a French song. Junior Troop 303 gave a "funny fashion show."

Maryville School Brownie Troops 969 and 910 presented a song and dance routine, and Junior Troops 238, 905 and 123 paraded and introduced international dolls and sang "Let There be Peace on Earth."

Leaders of Johnson School presented Mrs. Clements with potted tulips as a token of their appreciation.

The program was closed by Margot Clements thanking all for their efforts and participation. Troop 180 retired the flags.

Girl Scouts attend mass at St. Joseph

Brownie Troop 57, Junior Troop 891, and Cadette Troop 776, sponsored by St. Joseph's Church, began their celebration of Girl Scout Week with participation in a Neighborhood II parade Saturday morning.

Leaders of the three troops placed a display in Bassett Agency windows Friday afternoon, of crafts the scouts made.

On Sunday, a communion mass was celebrated at St. Joseph's Church. Father Victor Chateauvert officiated and the scouts had a active role in the mass.

A flag procession opened the service, with Brownie Amanda Mucho as the World Association flag bearer; honor guard, Gretchen Mink; Junior Alyssa Line as the American flag bearer; honor guard, Cadette Vivien Gilleland.

Brownie Laura Nesbit read a scout poem and the laws; Cadette Laura Boyer gave the first reading; Junior Michelle Stuart read the responsorial psalm; and Cadette Elecia Bush gave the second reading. Gift bearers were, Brownie Angela Alexander, Junior Dawn Bowers, and Cadette Mary Narup.

John Stanfill, a member of the choir, sang "Girl Scouts Together", accompanied by Cleta Judd on the organ.

After mass, drinks and donuts were served to the scouts' families in the church basement.

Cadette Troop 776: Leader Ruth Dolosic, Co-leader Stella Bush, Mary Narup, and Carla Schutzenhofer.

Activities planned for later in the week include a flag ceremony at Sacred Heart-St. Joseph's P.T.O. meeting by the juniors and brownies, and babysitting offered by the Cadettes, for parents attending the meeting.

A bit of research

Terra Tek Inc., Salt Lake City, Utah, has begun work on improving the efficiency of diamond drlling bits under a $150,000 contract from the Department of Energy. Such bits are widely used in oil and gas drilling. Industrial diamonds are 40 to 50 times harder than the hardest steel.

St. Elizabeth Girl Scout observance

In observance of Girl Scout Week, Brownie Troop 216 and leaders Maureen Mehelic, Kathi Nenninger and Carmen Schwartz and Troop 942 with leaders Julia Portell and Barbara Tanner, Junior Troop 196 and leaders JoAnn Arth and Rose Krystopa, Troop 663 and leaders Margaret Groboski, Lorraine Miskell and Pam Ames and Troop 314 with leaders Pat Loftus and Pat Scherrills from St. Elizabeth School attended the 9 a.m. mass at St. Elizabeth Church Sunday.

Several members from the troops participated in the liturgy readings and presentation of the offeratory gifts. Immediately following the mass, the troops gathered in the school cafeteria and were served milk and donuts.

Also in conjunction with Girl Scout Week, all troops participated in a flag raising ceremony at school on Monday morning by reciting the pledge of allegiance, the Girl Scout promise and singing "My Country 'tis of Thee." They retired the colors at the end of the school day with the singing of "Taps."

Jr. Girl Scouts view art exhibit

Members of Junior Girl Scout Troop 709 of Marshall School visited the Art-A-Rama exhibit at St. Margaret Mary school cafeteria in conjunction with Girl Scout week observance, Sunday afternoon.

One of the troop members, Elizabeth Stark, received a second place rating for her entry in modern art in the 11-12 age category.

In other activities planned prior to this week for the troop members included a visit to Happy Joe's Ice Cream and Pizza Parlor, a bowling party at a local bowling lane and attending the Thinking Day program at St. Margaret Mary Church.

Mrs. Joan Stark, leader, announced the group will travel to Springfield, Ill., for a field trip on March 31.

Those attending the activities were Angela Adams, Cheryl Coulter, Cara Crews, Sheryl Dawson, Shelli Ellsworth, Rochelle Henderson, April Hughes, Robin Johnson, Barbara Jones, Charlene King, Nikki Kiselka, Janice Lease, Veronica Morris, Traci Rodgers, Kim Rushing, Melissa Segedy, Michelle Smith, Elizabeth Stark, Sheryl Swift, Cassandra Tidwell, Beverly Wallace, Kirsten Weatherford, Angela Jaggie, Angela Wickham, Carla Housend, Charlene Knox and Co-leaders Diane Swift and Evelyn Doyle.

Finance panel to review pay

The Finance Committee of the Granite City Council has been requested to review the salary of Assistant City Inspector James Stack, since an agreement under which his salary was set will expire May 1.

Stack originally was hired as assistant street superintendent, but his job title was changed in late 1979 after a lengthy period of time in which Street Superintendent Lionel Portell refused to recognize him as an employee of the street department due to political differences.

Portell is elected and Stack was appointed by Mayor Paul Schuler. Due to the lengthy stalemate between Portell and Stack, it was suggested Stack be transferred to head the city's Sanitation Department crews and report to City Inspector Emerald Dewes, who also is appointed by Schuler.

His salary was set at $1,552 per month, or $18,624 per year, about what he was paid as assistant superintendent of streets. There was lengthy debate at the time over his salary, since it exceeds the $17,854 per year Dawes receives. However, the council agreed to allow the imbalance between the inspector's salary and the assistant's salary to remain until the city's new budget goes into effect May 1.

Plan a mural on downtown 'eyesore'

Hopes that an "eyesore" wall in the downtown Granite City area can be cleaned up and turned into a mural of Granite City history were expressed by Assistant City Inspector Jim Stack during Monday night's Granite City Council meeting.

Stack said he has been working with officials of the county's Compehensive Employment and Training Act program (CETA) on a Summer Youth Work Program in which young CETA employees can clean cement and debris from a wall which faces a vacant lot on the southeast corner of 19th Street and Delmar Avenue and students from high school art classes in Granite City can paint a mural on the wall.

He said about five youths will be involved in cleaning the wall and preparing its surface for painting. Final plans are being prepared for submission to the county's Manpower office for approval.

Stack said the success of the program will depend on the cooperation of local labor unions which will need to permit the work to be done by the Manpower workers, who are not in the unions.

Alderman Lloyd Bailey of the Fifth Ward predicted the unions will object to the work. "We tried the same thing last year. We had the money. The painters and all the other unions would not let us do it. Not one bit at all," Bailey contended.

He said painters, bricklayers, carpenters and others will have to give their approval before youths can do the work.

Stack said the arrangements are being made by the CETA office and local officials are only aiding the project.

Only the taller portion of the building will be improved, Stack said, contending that the back part has a deteriorating false wall which should be removed. The city's inspection department is investigating, he said.

Mayor Paul Schuler commented, "Let's hope we can do it this time. We have tried for three or four years to clean that up."

In other business, the council agreed to sign a "hold-harmless" agreement on a parcel of property M.H. Wolfe & Co. has agreed to let the city use for cinder storage.

Street Superintendent Lionel Portell explained that the Wolfe firm has agreed to let the street department use the floor of a burned-down warehouse at 24th Street and the railroad tracks (a former biscuit company) at no cost to store cinders and aggregate material, if the city would sign an agreement freeing Wolfe from liability should anyone be injured on the property.

Portell said the concrete slab will provide an excellent storage area for the cinders, since high-loaders can easily pick up the cinders on the cement.

He estimated the city will store about 100,000 tons of cinders and aggregate material on the site. He assured the council that, by the agreement, nothing else can be stored there.

Several aldermen expressed concern that residents in that area may not want the cinders stored near their homes, but the aldermen agreed there are not many homes near where the cinders will be stored.

The proposal was adopted unanimously by the aldermen present.

The aldermen were informed in a letter from the Illinois Commerce Commission that Consolidated Rail Corp. (CONRAIL) has agreed to modernize the crossing warning signals at the 20th Street crossing, putting in new automatic flashers and gates.

The Rock Church, 1917 State St., was granted permission to block off the sidewalk in front of the former taxicab stand at 1918-1920 State St. for about three days, starting immediately, for construction improvements on the building. The city engineer and street department are to supervise the work.

A request from Hospice of Madison County for funding from the revenue sharing budgets of Granite City and Granite City Township was referred to the city's finance committee and to township officials for consideration.

The aldermen, in their dual capacity as members of the township board of trustees, were invited to attend either of two conferences the Township Officials of Illinois group will conduct March 26 in Olney or Nashville, Ill., on revenue sharing and other township matters. The invitation was placed on file when none of the aldermen indicated he wished to attend.

Bills approved by the aldermen, seated as the town board, totaled $9,985 from the town fund, $4,704 in general assistance funds and $2,979 from the federal revenue sharing account.

Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward objected to Illinois Power Company billing its customers, including Granite City residents, for costs incurred in constructing the nuclear power plant at Clinton, Ill.

"Now we read they have made a $10 million mistake (a design error). Who do you think is going to pay for that?" Poulos asked.

Mayor Schuler commented that the city and numerous other groups protested plans by IP to include some of the construction costs in power bills before the plant is in operation, but added, "The ICC made its ruling. There were all kinds of protests. We protested, too. It was to little avail, but the increase Illinois Power requested was decreased substantially."

Schuler also noted the city initially had gone on record as opposing construction of a nuclear power plant befors construction was started.

Poulos contended, "It's all political. We understand that."

The aldermen agreed to advertise for bids for four pump feeders needed at the city's sewage treatment plant.

They also agreed to send Terrence McMillan, superintendent of the treatment plant, and his assistant, John Mink, to a seminar on sludge handling and disposal in St. Louis March 18 at a total cost to the city of $225.

Alderman Glen Sprankle of the Fourth Ward complimented McMillan on cost-savings programs he has initiated at the treatment plant since McMillan was appointed last year.

"Since we have had Mr. McMillan with us, he has saved us $30,000 with new methods of running the plant. He has done a fine job for us," Sprankle concluded. The council concurred.

The council adjourned the meeting into an executive session to discuss negotiations with unions representing city employees.

The next meeting of the council was set for Wednesday, March 19, at 8 p.m., due to the March 18 primary election, which is on the regular meeting date.

Spring carnival at St. Mary's

St. Mary's parents and friends will hold their third annual "spring carnival" on Friday, April 18, from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. at St. Mary's Parish Hall, 10th Street and Washington Avenue.

Plans for the event were completed at a monthly meeting held last week.

Carnival booths, games, a cake walk, arts, crafts, a "wacky hospital," a used toy booth, and food and beverages are planned.

A make-up artist will make children's faces into clown's faces. Brian Ballard, a local magician, will perform.

Funny movies will be shown and a puppet show will be performed under the direction of Mrs. Ruth Klaus.

"We are planning a fun night for the entire family, and are inviting all area residents to attend," Georgann Krakowiecki, carnival chairman, said.

COMEDIAN TO APPEAR FRIDAY

Comedian Skidrow Joe will appear at the Troy Opry in Troy, Ill., Friday at 8 p.m.

He has appeared on local television shows in Nashville, Tenn., and at Jerry Reed's Nashville Palace. The comedian is associated with Staircase Promotions, according to the announcement.

DANCE AUDITIONS

Open auditions for the dance company at the East St. Louis Center of SIUE will be held on March 24, 26 and 27. Auditions will begin at 7 each evening in Room 7001 of the Broadview Building at 411 East Broadway, Mrs. Patricia Williams, 271,3000, said.

Port asked to begin second phase of local coal gasification plant study

The Tri-City Regional Port District is studying a request by the U.S. Department of Energy to begin the second phase of a study to determine the feasibility of building a coal gasification plant in the port area on the Quad-City riverfront.

The request was reported to board members during a meeting Monday evening. The second phase of the study would involve preliminary design planning, according to Carl Ranft, manager of the port district.

Response to the request will depend to a great extent on an additional federal grant for the work, Ranft said.

The first phase of the study covering the questions of demand, production cost and profit factors has been financed with a $140,000 grant and $6,000 in local funds. The Department of Energy grant was approved last September and the study has been under way since that time.

The study is directed by the Port, with the Dravo, Inc., Industrial Fuel Division, the Illinois Power Co. and the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan and Regional Planning Commission participating.

Board members have agreed that if the study shows there are sufficient users and if the projected cost of gas production is competitive with other fuel costs, then planning for construction should continue.

Gas produced by such a facility would have a BTU content in the 150 to 300 BTU per cubic foot range, as compared to 1,000 BTU per cubic foot for natural gas.

Such gas can be used by local industries for certain applications or can be used for the generation of steam to produce electricity.

Board members also heard a report by Wayne Weideman, executive director of the St. Louis Metropolitan Port Authority, on plans for a dedication of replacement Lock and Dam 26 on April 25. Plans are tentative and will be announced later by the U.S. Corps of Army Engineers, the board was told.

A plan for construction of a 24x36-foot building for storage purposes was approved. The building will be located behind the port office.

Allege damage to apartment

David Wayne Williams, 18, of 708g Meadow Lane, Mitchell, was arrested early Tuesday at Route 3 and West Chain of Rocks by state troopers, who discovered Granite City had a warrant on file alleging criminal damage to property.

The warrant alleges Williams and at least three other persons caused extensive damage Nov. 17, 1979, to an apartment at 2143a Edison Ave. which was owned by the city.

The front door was broken, cabinets and paneling were torn from the walls, there were holes knocked through the walls and obscenities were painted on the walls and ceilings.

Williams is the third person to be arrested in connection with the damage and additional arrests are possible, authorities said.

Literary workshop at Pontoon Church

A literary workshop for persons who cannot read English will be held March 26-28 at the Pontoon Baptist Church. Sessions will be held from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on each of the three days.

Dee McFarland of Princeton, Ill., who conducts literary workshops throughout the state for the Illinois Baptist Association, will conduct the workshop meetings. The program is sponsored by the Madison County Baptist Association.

An adult non-reader is a person 25 years of age or older who cannot pass a fifth-grade reading level, an association official said.

Picture word charts and the new streamlined English series prepared by Dr. Frank C. Laubach, a Christian missionary who taught masses of people to read, are used in bringing an adult to a functional reading level, it was noted.

There is no charge for the course, but materials will be available to purchase.

Persons acquainted with non-readers have been asked to refer them to the Madison County Baptist Association.

According to statistics compiled by the MCBA, there are 5,741 persons in Madison County who do not know how to read. Of these, 373 are in Collinsville, 989 in Granite City, 461 in Madison, 154 in Edwardsville and 77 in Highland.

These do not include foreign-born persons who can read another language.

Nursery facilities will be available to those attending the conference, it was announced.

Fines distributed

A total of $165,038 in fines collected in Madison County by the Third Judicial Circuit courts during February has been distributed by Circuit Clerk Willard V Portell.

The distribution included $11,820 for Granite City, $1,210 for Madison and $1,545 for Venice. Pontoon Beach received $2,110.

The largest single allotment went to the state of Illinois in fines assessed in overweight truck cases, amounting to $72,715. Madison County received $35,120.

A total of $135 went to the Illinois Commerce Commission, and $135 was given the state Department of Conservation.

Miss Matoesian on Dean's List

Miss Marina Jane Matoesian has been named to the Dean's Honor List for the third consecutive semester at the University of Notre Dame. Miss Matoesian is daughter of Judge and Mrs. Andy Matoesian of 2836 State St. She is a second semester sophomore majoring in economics and history and is enrolled in the College of Arts and Letters. Miss Matoesian was the valedictorian of Granite City High School South class of 1978 and was the recipient of the Curtright Scholarship.

The University of Notre Dame is a private, Catholic University located in South Bend, Ind. Founded in 1844 by the Rev. Edward F. Sorin as a private men's university, it initially consisted of a few buildings, several priests, and twenty-five students. Modeled after the European universities, Notre Dame's curriculum differed from the standard four-year collegiate program, for it offered a secondary and collegiate education combined in a six or seven year program. In addition to college students, vocational and elementary students attended the university. These programs were discontinued in the 1920's. The law school was founded in 1869, and in 1944 the graduate school was officially established.

Since its founding, the University of Notre Dame has maintined its aspiration to educate the whole person. In 1952 with the appointment of its present President, Rev. Theodore Hesburgh, Notre Dame has increased its drive for intellectual excellence. Today the university is subdivided into four undergraduate colleges of Arts and Letters, Business Administration, Engineering and Architecture, and Science, and also offers an extensive program of advanced and graduate studies. With a present undegraduate enrollment of 6800, the university is highly renowned for its athletic program, yet it is most highly acclaimed as one of the world's leading Catholic Universities, according to an announcement by the Matoesian family.

Investigate abduction

Two teenage boys told Granite City Steel security guards and Granite City police at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday that they had just seen a woman beaten and abducted by a man on the parking lot of the A & P Food Store in the 2000 block of Iowa Street.

The teens said the woman, who was wearing hair curlers and a long robe or coat, ran from the man, who chased her about one-half block and struck her. He then grabbed her and forced her into his car on the parking lot, where he struck her several times, police were told.

He demanded money from her and then drove west on 20th Street, the teens said. He was in his early 20s, thin, about 5 feet, 8 inches tall and having short black hair. He wore light blue silk pants, a patterned shirt and a gold earring in his left ear.

The auto was a new tan vinyl over black or dark-colored Chevrolet with Illinois license plates.

Officers are checking missing persons reports in an attempt to determine who the woman may have been. Anyone having information which could help solve the mystery is being asked to contact the police at 877-6111.

Cities, state told Lansdowne plant will close

The Lansdowne treatment plant which gives primary treatment to sanitary sewage from throughout the East St. Louis and Madison and Venice areas will be shut down by the Metro-East Sanitary District in 60 days, state and city officials were informed Monday.

Trustees of the district authorized the mailing of letters to the Environmental Protection Agency, the Illinois attorney general's office and mayors of cities served by the Lansdowne plant, notifying them of the board's intention to shut down the plant.

Such action would leave a large area south of the Quad-Cities without sewage treatment, in violation of EPA standards, and could make the sanitary district subject to heavy penalties under EPA regulations.

In reference to the possibility of EPA fines, one official said, "So what? What could they get?" The sanitary district has been hard-pressed financially for the past several years and has had to borrow money frequently to meet its payrolls.

Board members said that fee collections for sewage treatment have been so poor that there are insufficient funds to maintain and operate the plant.

The district now has $226,000 outstanding in fee delinquencies. Efforts to collect delinquent fees, including a program in which officials threatened to discontinue sewer service by digging up and disconnecting sewer connections, have produced minimal results, trustees said.

The decision to close the treatment plant was based on what sanitary district officials said was a "lack of cooperation" by officials of the cities whose homes, businesses and industrial plants are served by the Lansdowne plant.

At the time the primary treatment plant was placed in operation in the mid-1960s, contracts were signed by representatives of the city guaranteeing payment of fees in the event individual users failed to pay, trustees said. Now, they noted, the city officials refuse to permit the sanitary district to dig up sewer connections to enforce fee payments.

Cities served by the Lansdowne plant include East St. Louis, Fairmont City, Washington Park, Caseyville, National City, Madison, Venice and the stockyards area.

The plant has three employees and a superintendent. It is located at National City and handles primary treatment only.

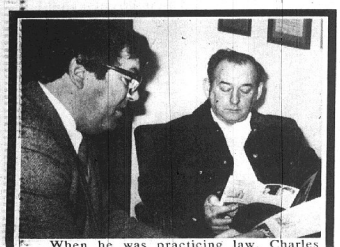

The sanitary district has been under EPA orders to build secondary treatment facilities at the Lansdowne plant, but the district has been unable to do so because of its financial problems.

Efforts were made to transfer the sponsorship of secondary treatment facilities to other municipal entities, but these were unsuccessful.

The sanitary district board also heard during its meeting Monday a report that the Cooper lift station in Cahokia, repaired at high cost, is not working properly. Pumps that fail to handle the water volume were installed by the contractor, it was asserted.

Trustees also rejected during the meeting a request by East St. Louis to connect a stormwater sewer from an area near Route 50 and Summit Avenue to the Wedgewood pumping station. The board decided the pumping station could not handle the additional volume of water.

Sewer committee OKs detachments

The Madison County Board's special sewer committee members voted last night to ask the county board to alter the boundries of the special service area to exclude homes which will not receive sanitary sewer service from the new county sewers.

The county board is to act on the request Wednesday, March 26.

Engineer Ed Juneau presented a map of the revised district which removes homes on portions of Pine Street, Miracle Avenue, Paul Street, Old Alton Road north of Johnson School, Rock Road and Lockhaven Drive.

However, Juneau said, undeveloped ground was left in the district, even though there have been some requests from farmers and owners of such ground wishing to detach from the sewer taxing district.

Committee members indicated they will consider detaching only residential buildings which will not be served by the new sewers and will not consider detachment requests from others who only wish to avoid paying the taxes.

All future requests for detachment will be handled on an individual basis by the committee, it was indicated. The question of detachment was stalemated until the attorneys for the bonding company agreed that detaching homes which will not receive service will not nullify the agreement under which the bonds were sold.

The scheduled March 26t meeting of the sewer committee has been cancelled, since the county board will meet that evening.

The board also discussed a request from the Norfolk & Western Railroad that the county pay about $625 per year rent for railroad property through which a sewer line behind Stallings School was installed.

The committee had a permit from the railroad to install the line, but felt the county would be charged a nominal fee for the easement. Railroad officials later computed the annual rent, which committee members indicated they feel is excessive.

The committee agreed to negotiate with the railroad officials on a lease or purchase agreement for the property or easement.

8:35 a.m. Wednesday crash on the viaduct.

The accident tied up northbound traffic for nearly an hour, with cars backed up almost to Interstate 70. Some southbound traffic was re-routed.

A southbound auto driven by Sandra Doss, 19, of 2244 Lee Ave., slid out of control into a northbound lane of Route 203, authorities said.

The Doss vehicle then allegedly was struck by an auto driven by Lenottee Malone, 26, of Brooklyn, causing the Doss vehicle to spin and subsequently involve autos driven by William Vogt, 43, of Pacific, Mo., and Debora Bowlin, 19, of Mascoutah, Ill.

Miss Doss was admitted to St. Elizabeth Medical Center for observation.

Brian Ropac, 18, of 109 Riviera Drive., a passenger in the Doss vehicle, was treated and released, suffering pain in the right shoulder.

Bernethia Watson, age 7, of 207 Eagle Park, a passenger in the Malone vehicle, was admitted for observation after striking her head.

Vogt, 43, was treated and released, suffering a bruised chin.

Teachers' suit

Tuesday, March 25. It seeks to have the district review the economic reasons for planning staff reductions.

The salute relates that such an accounting would help teachers subject to dismissal "know precisely what the circumstances are and whether or not they justify the dismissals."

Teachers have said they feel the school district sometimes overreacts to the financial squeeze attributed to enrollment and assessment trends and the continuing monetary inflation affecting the U. S.

A year ago, the schools permanently closed three buildings and reduced the number of jobs. Teachers with up to five years of experience were given dismissal notices, but through attrition the district was able to rehire all tenured teachers by the fall of 1980.

A new series of dismissal notices is planned at the board meeting immediately following the public hearing.

School officials are in the process of reviewing their staff needs and preparing financial analyses, as part of the rationale for staff cuts to be considered at the hearing and meeting. Details have not been completed or announced.

William Foley dies at 70

William E. Foley, 70, of Riverton, Ill., formerly of Venice, died at 1 p.m. Wednesday at Dirksen Health Care Center, Springfield, Ill.

He had been ill for six months and was a resident of the health care center for one week.

Mr. Foley was born in Venice and had moved to the Springfield area in 1945.

Prior to his retirement, Mr. Foley was employed with the Illinois License Bureau in Springfield.

He was a U.S. Army veteran of World War II.

Survivors include one son, Phillip Foley, Riverton; six brothers, Frank Foley, Godfrey, Fred Foley, Maryville, Tom and George Foley, both of Granite City, Ed and Howard Foley, both of Venice; two sisters, Mrs. Edna McNelly, Hamburg, Ill., and Mrs. Ila Dunscomb, Venice.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

2 beaten at high schools

Two students at Granite City's two high schools were beaten Wednesday morning. At Granite City High School North, a teenage boy was struck on the back of the head by a 17-year-old who held a roll of pennies in his fist. The pennies were wrapped in black tape.

Authorities suspended the 17-year-old from school for 10 days due to the incident.

At South high school, a 15-year-old student was in the smoking area when five youths in an older black four-door Chevrolet stopped and one accused the 15-year-old of stealing something from the car a few days earlier.

The student then was punched with a fist and knocked to the ground, where the five kicked his head and back. The five returned to the car and left before authorities arrived.

Neither of the victims in the two incidents was seriously injured, reports indicate.

Parks seek new funding for shelter

The Board of Commissioners of the Granite City Park District met Wednesday night to seek a new avenue for grants to complete work on the Wilson Park ice skating rink and to replace an existing picnic shelter, since an anticipated federal grant of $33,412 has been cancelled.

Initially the grant was approved by the Illinois Department of Conservation but was rejected by Heritage Conservation Recreation Services, a division of the U. S. Department of Interior regional office located near Detroit, Mich., board president George H. Sykes reported.

Sykes explained the ice rink is not considered energy-efficient and the decision was based on a climatic criteria plan to determine money for grants.

Factors in the decision included an average annual snowfall of 24 inches, which would qualify for the grant, but this area recorded only 21 inches. Also, the mean temperature of the coldest month would have to be 30 degrees or less and this area registered 31.5 degrees, Sykes added.

An alternative plan suggested by Board Member Dave Nolan would be to apply for the Urban and Park Recovery Act, which would be on a 70-30 cost sharing basis. He added that an early requirement would have to be a five-year plan with a set of objectives outlined by the park board. He noted the federal government would pay 70 percent, with the park district paying the other 30 percent

Although the work on the picnic shelter was included in the cancellation notification, the board noted it can resubmit an application for funds to work on that specific project and it will possibly be accepted.

The district had planned to replace an existing picnic shelter between the Wilson Park ice skating rink and Niedringhaus School with a new 24x60 foot shelter, to be completed by May 1.

It also had planned to apply two coats of paint to the wood surface underneath the ice rink's roof. Overall cost of the two projects was set at $66,825, of which the federal government would provide half if the grant had been approved.

Nolan announced a tentative appointment between Frank Jones, a representative from the regional office, Mayor Paul Schuler and park board members for the purpose of discussing securing funds for the renovation plan.

In other business, Barry Loman made a motion that the park district annex property which the city has already annexed, thus providing residents in outlying areas with more opportunity to participate in park district activities. It was decided to proceed with the plan.

The next regular meeting of the park board will be at 7 p.m. Wednesday, March 26.

Altered report causes delay in murder trial

Alroy Joseph Gracey Jr., 47, of Eastgate Drive, Pontoon Beach, was to have gone to trial this week in connection with the Nov. 2 fatal shooting of Terry C. Stockman, 35, Edwardsville, but an unusual turn of events has caused a postponement until March 24.

Gracey's attorney, Wendell Durr, has asked the court to order that Mr. Stockman's body be exhumed to examine the bullet wounds to his head.

Judge John W. Day has temporarily denied the motion until a St. Louis forensic pathologist can review pathological reports and other evidence to determine whether the bullet which killed Mr. Stockman passed through his head from right to left, or in the opposite direction.

Mr. Stockman was seated in the driver's seat of his car in the parking lot of Elsie's Lounge (the old Roundhouse) on Old Route 66 when he was shot and killed.

A November coroner's report indicated the bullet which killed Mr. Stockman had passed from right to left, indicating he was shot from the passenger side of the car. On Feb. 8, however, Pathologist Jeffrey A. Fisher of Collinsville amended the report to indicate the bullet had traveled from the left side of the head to the right, indicating he was shot from the driver's side.

Prosecution officials are said to have witnesses that Gracey was standing on the driver's side of the car when the shot was fired. Fisher told a reporter he amended the report on the basis on information obtained at the site of the shooting but not made immediately available to the coroner.

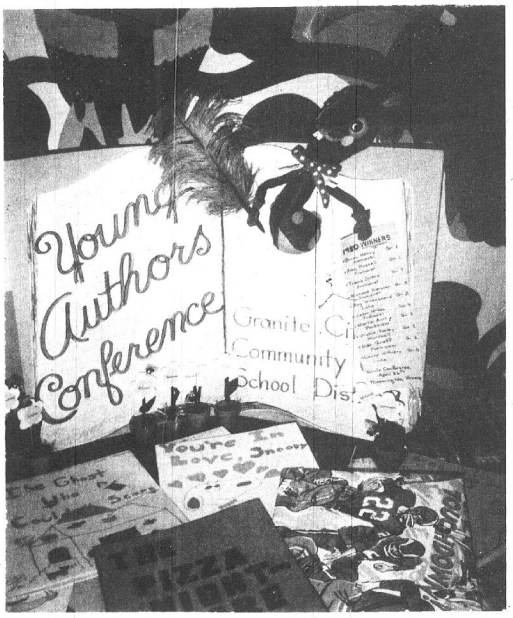

Judge Day temporarily denied the motion to exhume the body for re-examination and he ordered St. Louis Pathologist George Gantner to review the reports and evidence. Gantner is to report back to the court next week and Judge Day then is expected to make a permanent ruling on the motion to exhume Mr. Stockman's body.

IDENTIFICATION OF SKELETON PENDING

A Madison County Sheriff's spokesman said identification of the skeletal remains of a body found in a ditch a half mile east of the E. 23rd Street railrod crossing Sunday afternoon may be made late this afternoon. A pathologist was called in on the case.

The body is believed to be that of a black male, between five feet five and five feet eight inches tall. The skeleton is believed to have been in the ditch for at least a year. Two gold teeth in the right front portion of the mouth are being compared with dental records.

10 students to make trip to conference

Ten elementary students in Granite City have been declared winners in competition to be selected to attend the annual Young Authors' Conference in Bloomington, Ill., April 26.

Those competing wrote original books which were judged by Cynthia Hollingshead and Theresa Johnson, High School North English instructors.

The Young Authors' Conference is co-sponsored by the Illinois State Board of Education and the Language Experience Special Interest Council.

Schools in Granite City District 9 submitted a total of 69 entries in the contest.

Winners are:

Nameoki School, Grade 1, Brian Henry, 2128 Lynch, "My Make Believe Dog," son of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Henry.

Frohardt School, Grade 1, Amy Russell, 3189 Carlson, "The Adventures of Ambitious The Cat and Betsy the Dog," daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Russell.

Frohardt School, Grade 3, Tracie Greco, 3313 Wabash, "Children's Literature One," daughter of Mrs. Carla Stack.

Frohardt School, Grade 3, Richard Harmon, 2348 Gary, "The First Book of Children's Literature," son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harmon.

Lake School, Grade 3, Amy Hildebrand, 7 Kelly Drive, "Tiger's Missing," daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hildebrand.

Frohardt School, Grade 3, Jason McKee, 4028 Gaslight, Apt. 4, "Jason's Limmericks, Stories, and Fables," son of Mrs. Mary McKee.

Parkview School, Grade 5, Marta Ault, 3232 Newell, "Speckles," daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Ault.

Marshall School, Grade 5, Vickie Farley, 1313 Kirkpatrick, "My Baby Sister," daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Murphy.

Parkview School, Grade 6, Dan Graff, 3209 Erin, "Jim Simpson Astronaut," son of Mr. and Mrs. William Graff.

Lake School, Grade 6, Laura Withers, R.R. 1 Box 409, "But I Don't Wanna, Dad," daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Withers.

These students will attend an all-day workshop in Bloomington, according to Gifted Program Coordinator Merna M. Musterman, who organized the local contest. The purpose, Mrs. Musterman said, is to "encourage and recognize excellence in writing."

The public is being invited to view the exhibits at the library.

Commission and was told the city engineer had inspected the plans, but not the Plan Commission. He then moved to refer the preliminary plat to that commission for a recommendation.

The aldermen also voted unanimously to annex two lots in Bellemore Place, at 1734 Courtenay Blvd., into the city, effective immediately. Aldermen absent were Earl Baker of the Sixth Ward and Fred "Pat" Schuman of the Second Ward.

The council also gave Mayor Paul Schuler the authority to negotiate on the part of the city for the purchase of property needed for storm water holding ponds in connection with a proposed Briarcliff and North Granite drainage plan.

City Engineer Monroe Brewer said extensive study of aerial photos of the area indicate that two holding ponds are needed in the area which will drain into the city's storm sewers at times when the water level in the sewers is low.

One holding pond, about eight acres in size, would be in the "hobo jungle" area near the end of Wilson Park Lane, by the railroad tracks, and would be used to hold runoff water from the Briarcliff area.

The other holding pond would be located beside the Feralloy Co. plant on Nameoki Drive, between the two sets of railroad tracks which divide North Granite City from Granite City proper. That pond stretching roughly from 22nd Street to 25th Street, would drain North Granite City, Brewer said. That pond would be about 22 acres, he noted.

Mayor Schuler noted that nearly $70,000 has been set aside for the project by the Madison County Community Development office, which will reimburse the city for funds expended in land acquisition and other project costs.

Brewer said some minor questions need to be resolved before the project will be in the construction stage, but several of those questions will be answered when the city barters for property for the holding ponds. "We should get underway as soon as the property is acquired," he said.

It was noted the city could turn to condemnation proceedings in court to acquire the property, if agreement on fair market value cannot be reached with the owners, but Brewer said he has talked to all the property owners involved and does not believe the city will encounter problems in negotiating the purchases.

The overall cost of the project, Brewer said, will depend on what means the city uses to dispose of the dirt which will be removed from the holding ponds and drainage culverts. "It is just a lot of dirt to get rid of. How we get rid of it will determine a lot of the cost," he explained.

Decatur said the cost also is his major concern. "This project was supposed to be bid last year and the work started this winter. The cost keeps rising and now the residents fear spring flooding again. We have promised this to the people and I'm worried we may not have enough money to do the project."

The aldermen agreed unanimously to give Schuler the authority to negotiate to purchase or condemn the property needed for the holding ponds.

under our jurisdiction, but if those bringing these points wish to pursue this as a private matter, they must hire a private attorney," Byron stated.

"If we exceed our jurisdiction, then we make the county liable," he added.

"Don Smith and I checked a lot of criminal law on this thing and found nothing. We had no jurisdiction to get into civil law. That's up to private attorneys and the courts.

"People give this office more jurisdiction than the law allows. We have a function to perform and we do not want to exceed that function.

"There will be no other actions by this office on the questions raised by Mr. Partney and Mr. Douglas regarding Mr. Callis' actions," the state's attorney concluded.

Byron said his office also has been under pressure from "a group of farmers from eastern Madison County who have been harassing me for a copy of a report on assessment procedures."

The Department of Criminal Investigation for the state police prepared a lengthy report on assessment procedures and the use of certificates of error to reduce assessments in past years. Byron has said he will not release a copy of that document until a review of it is complete.

"I cannot give a copy of that report, at this time, to anyone who is not within the process. We are trying to work on the total facts of this thing. It is very complex and we want to be careful about starting anything, unless it is done properly.

"I would like to point out that Madison County is one of the few counties that is examining this facet. Certificates of error we review personally, now. There are a lot of safeguards and a lot of good has come out of this whole issue.

"I don't appreciate the tactics being used to discredit me for all the work I have done for the taxpayers. It smacks of personal politics on behalf of a few persons in isolated areas.

"I can sympathize with farmers with large, expensive tracts of land, but I don't see where I have, in any way, interefered with their concerns.

"I think I have been fair to all taxpayers in the area, including the city people," Byron concluded.

He indicated his office currently is involved in two major trials and numerous criminal matters and it unlikely the opinion on the assessment report will be rendered prior to Tuesday's primary election.

"It should have no effect on this office, other than from those who are attempting to use it politically. It deals strictly with assessment procedures and is under study," he concluded.

told. Slate is to bill Air Products for his services.

Nick Petrillo, city treasurer, said he lives across the street from the new plant and that he is questioning whether trucks and vibration of the operating equipment will disturb the area around the plant.

Alderman Charles Douglas of the First Ward said he had investigated the present plant and the proposal for the new construction and was convinced the operation will present no environmental or vibration problems.

The additional operation will provide two additional jobs. Air Products now employs 10 persons.

Alderman Everett Morlen said that Granite City Steel needs additional supplies of oxygen that would be produced by the new facility.

These additional oxygen supplies would put "a lot more men to work there (the steel plant)," Morlen said.

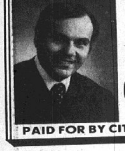

The plant, on which construction work has started, will produce oxygen, nitrogen and argon.

It will include an air separator, liquifier and argon purifier system.

The project also will include liquid cryogenic product storage tanks, loading, handling, maintenance and administrative facilities.

The new distribution terminal will include a truck terminal, office space, storage sheds, storage tanks, trucks and trailers, maintenance facilities and related equipment.

ABDUCTION ATTEMPT

A woman who resides on Village Lane told Granite City police at 7:20 p.m. Wednesday that a man grabbed her as she was getting into her car on the parking lot of the K-Mart store on Nameoki Road. She said the man got out of a gold Cadillac parked near her car, grabbed her and attempted to molest her. She was able to push him away, got in her car and locked the doors. When she drove away, the gold Cadillac followed her for a short distance before she lost sight of it, she reported.

Attempt to abduct nine-year-old girl at Frohardt School

Granite City police are attempting to determine the identity of a man who attempted to get a 9-year-old Frohardt School girl student into his car at 3:05 p.m. Wednesday.

The girl told police she was waiting for her father to pick her up after school when a dark green late model car, possibly a Buick, stopped and the driver called the girl by name and told her that her father asked him to pick her up at school.

She refused to get into the car and the man drove to a service station across the street and got gasoline before driving away.

He was about 33 to 35 years old, six feet tall, weighing about 160 pounds, and had straight blond hair and a blond mustache.

Officers questioned several students and parents, but have been unable to find anyone who could identify the man.

Meet on floodlights

Chouteau Township officials are requesting that floodlights which have been removed from the Alton & Southern Railroad crossing on Morrison Road be replaced for safety reasons.

Chouteau Supervisor Walter "Dick" Sparks met with representatives of the Illinois Commerce Commission, Illinois Power and the railroad last week to discuss the need for the lights. Sparks said those present agreed the lights are needed and should be replaced.

The question will be who should pay for the lights and the power bill. Bob Lane, one of three ICC representatives at the meeting, pledged that the problem will be investigated and the ICC will make a recommendation in the near future.

Others who attended were Vern Hussey and Terry Barter of the ICC, Bob Tweedy for the A & S Railroad, Bill Eads and Trish Spinner of Illinois Power Co. and Mrs. Helen Hawkins and Harold Smallie, representing the citizens of Nameoki Township.

Morrison Road is the dividing line between Nameoki and Chouteau Townships and has been the scene of numerous accidents and crimes, officials contend. In one case, several young women were abducted from the unlighted street and one was subsequently raped.

The floodlights at the intersection were subsequently installed, but were removed about two months ago.

GIRL SCOUTS and Brownies representing 18 troops march along Niedringhaus Avenue to the City Hall in Granite City Saturday in a parade kicking off a week-long observance of Girl Scout Week. The parade was conducted by Neighborhood Two and included several hundred scouts who marched from the Granite City Police Building to the downtown area for flag and proclamation ceremonies.

Girl Scout Week March 9-15

Art show, parade among scout events

To officially open Girl Scout Week and mark the 68th anniversary of Girl Scouting, members of Neighborhood Two, under the direction of Mrs. Lynn Ross, hosted a morning parade during the weekend which ended at the City Hall in Granite City for a flag raising ceremony.

The week-long observance opened Sunday and will conclude on Saturday following this year's theme of "Girl Scouting: Where the Future Begins."

Girl Scouts assembled at 9 a.m. at the Granite City Police Station, marched south on Madison Avenue to Niedringhaus Avenue, and proceeded to the City Hall to post the colors and the World Association flag.

Cadette Troop 776 posted the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts flag under the American flag on the grounds of the City Hall.

Color guards included Laura Boyer, Mary Narup, Kathy Carter, Katrina Winstead, Leca Bush, Teresa Dolosic and Vivian Gilleland of Troop 776, led by Ruth Dolosic and co-leader Stella Bush.

American flag bearers were representatives from each participating troop.

Troops taking part in the observance were Cadette Troop 776, a neighborhood troop; Brownie Troop 592 and Brownie Troop 103, both of Logan School; Junior Girl Scout Troop 891 and Brownie Trqop 57, both of Sacred Heart-St. Joseph.

Junior Troop 704 and Brownie Troop 198, both of Webster School; Brownie Troop 441 and Junior Troop 359, both of Emerson School; and Brownie Troop 802, Brownie Troop 652 and Junior Troop 275, all from Niedringhaus School.

Granite City High School's Warrior Flag Squad and South High drummers accompanied the entourage.

Leaders and assistants participating included Ruth Dolosic, Stella Bush, Joy Bohnenstiehl, Vicki Stephenson, Barb Boyer, Jo Yurek, Sandra Guenther, Andrea Oliver, Sharon Wickham, Alberta Manninger, Jennifer Dippel, Wanda Gibson, Dawn Oliver, Linda Ward, Debra Thompson, Carol Honchak, Pauline Bell, Linda Ferris, Linda Winnie, Connie Lindsey, Sandra Hargrove and Judy Daniels.

Neighborhood Four held an Art-A-Rama at St. Magaret Mary School cafeteria Sunday to celebrate Girl Scout Week.

Mrs. Deborah Gyaki served as chairman of the project and Mrs. Dee Loyet is neighborhood chairman.

Judging of the 336 entries was held Saturday by Mrs. Helyn Potter, Sister Marilyn Theresa and Sister Marie Monica.

Sixteen of the 18 troops in the neighborhood participated in the exhibit, with 219 artworks in the fine arts category and 117 displayed in the craft division.

Each work of art was judged according to age groups.

First place winners, 6-7 age group, were Tammy Pike, Troop 427, fine arts, and Amy Harper, Troop 567, crafts; ages 8-9, Rochelle Henderson, Troop 709, Elizabeth Earney, Troop 267, and Kathy Charter, Troop 509, tied for first in fine arts, and Nicole Markell, Troop 19, crafts; 10-11, Beth Brink, Troop 825, fine arts, and Carla Yager, Troop 267, crafts.

The 12-13 age group, Jenny Little, Troop 328, fine arts, and Mary Ruth, Troop 328, crafts; 14-15, Dara Evans, Troop 180, fine arts; 16-17, Judy Evans, Troop 180, first in both the fine arts and crafts.

All first-place fine arts entries will be displayed at the Granite City Public Library (children's room) through Friday. The top crafts exhibits may be viewed at Glik's Department Store, Bellemore, through Friday.

OFFICIAL WELCOME by Mayor Paul Schuler on the lawn of the City Hall. With the mayor is Mrs. Myra Parrish, district adviser. A proclamation was signed by the mayor formally designating the week of March 9 to 15 as Girl Scout Week. During the ceremonies, the colors were posted and the Girl Scout promise and pledge of allegiance were recited by all participating.

ART-A-RAMA judging in progress Saturday, prior to the public showing on Sunday at St. Margaret Mary school cafeteria. From the left are Mrs. Helyn Potter, Sister Marilyn Therese and Sister Marie Monica, judging the three entries in the 14-15 category in the fine arts competition. The alien creature at the bottom left, drawn by Dara Evans of Troop 180, received first place.

Burroughs lead county Bush effort

Republican presidential primary candidate George Bush has named Sue and Tom Burroughs as his county coordinators, in charge of recruiting local volunteers and organizing Madison County Republicans to turn out for Bush in the March 18 voting.

Burroughs said he became involved in Bush's campaign after deciding "he is the only campaigner with the background to start productive work on day one of his term as president."

Sue Burroughs believes that, with Bush's experience in building his own business, as a congressman, at the United Nations, as a diplomat in China, as chairman of the Republican National Committee and as director of Central Intelligence, "he is the most electable candidate in years to offer himself for public service."

Bush's Illinois campaign chairman, George Kangas, said supporters of the caliber of the Burroughs are essential to achieving the goal on March 18.

"Tom and Sue exemplify the type of character our party and state demand: strong in the community, top organizational skills, and integrity. As Madison County coordinators for the George Bush campaign, they are second to none," Kangas said.

South High choir at music contest

The Granite City High School South Southern Express Swing Choir competed at the 1980 Illinois High School Association Solo and Ensemble Music Contest. This year's contest was held at Belleville Township High School West.

The following students received first division ratings on their vocal solos: Jill Lockhart, with a perfect score; Rene Mayberry, Dynette Shrader, Barbara Muhlenbeck, Christie Connor, Dottie Robins, Dana York, Sherri Angle, and Mike Hildreth. Receiving second place ratings on their vocal solo were Randy Dunn and Kelly Stotz.

The following female voice ensemble received first division ratings: the ensemble of Dottie Robins, Rene Mayberry, Sherri Jones, Dynette Shrader, and Barb Muhlenbeck, and the ensemble of Jill Lockhart, Christie Connor, Ann Corbitt, Carrie Petrovich, Sherri Angle, Dana York, accompanist Mary Bryant.

The male quartet of Randy Dunn, Bruce Holt, Kelly Stotz, and Mike Hildreth received a second place rating.

South High School entered the Swing Choir Competition for the first time this year. They received perfect markes in the categories of precise rhythmic feeling within "jazz-pop style," artistic interpretation, diction, and choreography and received an oveall second place rating. The Swing Choir is under the direction of Mrs. Mary Ann Bright.

Church mobilizes to combat hunger

"Most Americans want to help feed starving people overseas, but don't know how," according to Pastor Don Pierson. "The average person feels overwhelmed by the size of a problem like global famine. Yet, we have found that then we show people they can do something about it, they respond to the challenge."

Rev. Pierson, pastor of the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church, was speaking about an eight-week hunger project sponsored by the church.

"Once we decided our congregation should really do something, we began to discover a number of disturbing facts," said Pierson. "We learned that two-thirds of the world goes to bed hungry and some 14,000 people die every day from starvation and related causes."

The people of the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church decided that the "something" they could do as a starter was to participate in a national program sponsored by World Vision and known as "Love Loaves." This is the fourth Lenten season the church has participated in this challenge.

Small coin containers, shaped like miniature loaves of bread, were distributed to the families of the church. "These will be kept on the dinner tables," explained Pierson, "as a reminder that while we have much, others have little or nothing to eat. I think it will also be a way parents can teach their children compassion. As the family prays for the world's needy, they also put coins in the "loaf" each day. Even the smallest child can participate."

A "dedication of the loaves" has been planned for Sunday, April 20, when the loaves will be turned in and the proceeds counted. Throughout this period of time, each Sunday service at the Nameoki Presbyterian will be focusing on various aspects of world need and the Christian response.

The church has designated 40 percent of the money to go to the Presbyterian "One Great Hour of Sharing" program, the Mobile Meals program in Granite City will receive 20 percent and the remaining 40 percent will go to the emergency relief ministry of World Vision International. World Vision is a non-profit interdenominational Christian humanitarian agency that conducts programs of childcare, emergency relief, community development, Christian leadership and evangelism in 78 countries, Rev. Pierson added.

LET'S TELL THE TRUTH

ABOUT THE STATE'S ATTORNEY'S RACE IN MADISON COUNTY

1. A State's Attorney ought to try cases and ought to be ready, willing and able to make the final decision of whether to try any case or not.

That's What He's Elected To Do...
That's What He's Paid To Do...
That's Where The Buck Stops!

2. But, the incumbent Byron hasn't prosecuted a case in over 5 years . . . he hasn't been making the decisions.

3. And Bill Haine has NEVER prosecuted a criminal case and has only limited experience, over three years or so, as an Assistant Public Defender . . . Can he make the decisions? This office is too important a position to begin on-the-job training.

4. DICK ALLEN HAS 16 YEARS EXPERIENCE in criminal trial work, both as a Prosecutor and as a Defender . . . He is a tought veteran of the Criminal Court scene . . . DICK ALLEN can make the tough decisions. He's ready, willing and able to prosecute the cases and be YOUR STATE'S ATTORNEY!

Senior citizens are told of 'help' sign procedures

The Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce SHARE program was explained to members of the Silver Bells Senior Citizens Club last week.

SHARE, an acronym for Send Help At Residence—Emergency, was inititated recently by the public relations committee of the Chamber. The program coordinates the use of "Send Help" signs and the cooperation of local police and mail carriers.

Representing the Chamber at the meeting were Shirley Adams, Eugene Ajassi and Executive Vice-President Jim Livingston.

Those present were instructed on the proper use of "Send Help" signs in the event of an emergency. They were told to keep the signs conveniently near a front lower-floor window where it could be displayed if needed.

Patroling police, when noticing one of the signs in the window of a home, could immediately react to the possible emergency and could notify the proper emergency personnel needed.

Mail carriers will also be on the lookout for the signs and could also initiate help for the person or persons.

Venice Postmaster William Singleton was on hand to tell the group of a Carrier Alert program that will be initiated in the near future. Similar and complementary to SHARE, the program will alert the carriers of a potential problem or emergency at the residences of those participating.

The carriers would initiate the contacting of proper authorities.

The SHARE program is available to all residents in Granite City, Madison, Venice, Pontoon Beach and Mitchell. Further information about the program can be obtained at the Chamber office, 1831 Delmar Ave.

St. Pat program at Rotary meeting

It may have been cold outside on Wednesday, but the hearts of the Madison-Venice Rotarians were warmed as a special St. Patrick's program was presented.

Second and third grade students from Harris School dressed in green and white with traditional shamrocks, presented a program of Irish songs, poems and skits.

Mrs. Valerie Stevens, music director for the Madison School District, was in charge of the program.

Tickets to the M-V Rotary Chili Day Wednesday, March 26, were distributed.

The Rotarians will be serving from 11 a.m. until 6:30 p.m. in the Madison Memorial Center, Seventh and Lee, Madison, with carryouts available.

Rotarians Donald Bridick, Albert Hudzik and "Mick" Strange are co-chairmen of the event.

Members were reminded that on Wednesday, April 23, the club will hold a Career Awareness Experience for students from Madison and Venice High Schools.

Rotarians Robert Vickers and Wade E. James are coordinating the event.

Rotarians will host selected students at lunch and then the students will spend the afternoon at the Rotarian's place of business.

Students will be from the 10th and 11th grades and will have a similar vocational interest as their Rotarian sponsors.

Chouteau board seeks auditor

The Chouteau Town Board of Trustees decided Monday night to seek a price estimate from R.C. Scheffel & Co., certified public accountants, for the annual audit of the township's books. Scheffel has done the audit for the township for several years.

The trustees were reminded that there will be a public hearing on the township's road and bridge budgets Tuesday, March 25, at 7 p.m. in township hall.

GOP women to hear school board aspirants

The Granite City Republican Women's Club met last week at the Burns restaurant. After dinner, President Vernice Walter opened the meeting with a prayer. Gladys Pape reviewed a previous meeting and Eva Meier reported on finances.

Edna Kohlbrecher said candidates for School District 9 and Belleville Area College on April 12 will be invited to speak at the April club meeting.

It was noted that after this election, school elections will have to be combined with other elections to comply with new regulations reducing the number of elections held per year.

President Walter opened a discussion on precincts with a questionnaire. There is supposed to be a maximum of 800 voters in any one precinct, which causes precinct lines to be redrawn as needed, she said. Granite City Township has 37 precincts, Nameoki Township 12 and Venice Township 11.

There are 222 precincts in Madison County. The number of election judges per party is governed by the party which carried the precinct in the past governor's election — two to the party carrying the precinct and the 3rd judge to the other party.

Elmo Gruenfelter was introduced as a gues' All members are being urged to know who their congressional and state representatives are as well as their local precinct committeeman.

The board will meet on March 25 and the next regular club meeting will be Tuesday, April 1, at the Burns restaurant at 7 p.m. Those wishing to join the group for dinner at 6 p.m. are to call the April hostess, Edna Kohlbrecher, at 876-4595.

THEFT FROM CHURCH

Items valued at about $353 were stolen from Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Ave., church officials reported Tuesday. Someone placed a handerchief in a door jamb to keep it from locking and apparently returned later to remove drapes and trash cans from the second floor.

Circle 845 plans 30th anniversary

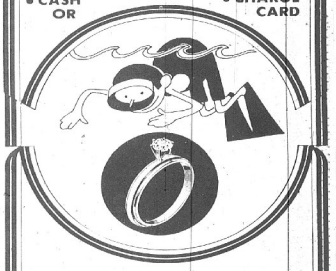

The Daughters of Isabella, Circle 845, will celebrate the 30th anniversary of the organization on May 8, it was announced at the March meeting. Details of the event will be discussed at the April 10 meeting.

The group met last week at the Knights of Columbus Hall with Dorothy Hoedebeck, regent, presiding.

It was announced that the Daughters of Isabella diocesan meeting will be held April 12 at the Round Table Restaurant in Collinsville. Reservations may be made by calling the regent.

Refreshments in a St. Patrick's Day theme were served by Stephanie Ruzic and her committee. Hostesses for the April meeting will be served by Josephine Yurko and her committee, the regent added.

Arrest on warrants

Alfred W. Bolt, 20, of 2153 Hamilton Drive, has been charged with conspiracy and a misdemeanor count of theft on warrants stemming from a case more than a year old. Bolt was arrested at 10:25 p.m. Monday on a traffic offense and when the officer checked, he found that warrants were on file.

Bolt was charged with participating in a conspiracy in which about $375 worth of Eagle Stamps were stolen from Cohen's Market, 2301 Illinois Ave., by a juvenile boy who worked there.

Eleven full books of the stamps worth $30.25 were cashed at National Food Store and others were cashed at the Leader Department Store, officials allege. The juvenile and a 17-year-old already have been prosecuted in connection with the conspiracy, authorities said.

Ill. Federation of Teachers for Kennedy, Dixon

Illinois Federation of Teachers President Robert M. Healey has announced that the IFT executive board has voted to endorse Senator Edward Kennedy for president in the March 18 Democratic primary election.

It is backing Kennedy delegate candidates Lizabeth Morgan and Carol Kopis in the 23rd District.

The Illinois Federation of teachers represents 45,000 public school teachers and other education employees in independent locals in Chicago and other cities throughout the state. The executive board is the policy-making body for the federation, but each local is autonomous and has the right to make its own endorsement.

The Kennedy endorsement was made on a recommendation by the IFT's Legislative Committee, which also recommended endorsement of 11 American Federation of Teachers members representing eight different congressional districts from various Illinois cities as Kennedy delegates to the national nominating convention.

Commenting on the unprecedented number of teachers who have elected to get involved in the Kennedy campaign by working to become convention delegates, Healey stated, "Illinois teachers are expressing their deep concern over the ever-spiraling inflation and the need for increased funding for public education.

"The Kennedy endorsement by our executive board reflects this concern, and I believe our teacher candidates are expressing the same concern and willingness to support a person whom they believe is sensitive to the needs."

The IFT also is backing Alan Dixon for the U.S. Senate and Congressman Melvin Price (23rd District).

THEFT IS ALLEGED

Mathew C. Stratton, 17, of 2815 Pershing Blvd., was arrested at 4 p.m. Tuesday and was charged with theft. It is alleged he entered the home of Ray Gene, 2819 E. 25th St., Monday while Gene slept and removed about $45 in cash from Gene's trousers.

25 YEAR GIFT. Granite City Police Capt. Frances J. McManus, left, receives a silver watch chain with an engraved fob honoring him for serving 25 years as president of the Granite City Employees' Federal Credit Union. McManus did not seek re-election as president, but remains on the credit union's board of directors. Presenting the gift is Granite City Superintendent of Streets Lionel Portell, treasurer of the credit union.

MANUEL KASTIN, of Madison. He will take office as district governor of District Ten of the Financial Managers Society for Savings and Loan Institutions at the organization's national convention to be held in Chicago in May. Kastin is vice-president and treasurer of an Edwardsville savings and loan firm.

Insurance costs rising in Venice

Rising insurance cost to the City of Venice with a monthly premium of a little over $5,000 was a cause of concern and discussion at the Venice City Council meeting on Monday.

Alderman Victor Valentine Sr., chairman of the insurance committee, said a meeting is needed with the health and accident insurance carrier for two reasons: the people covered needed to know exactly what they are covered for, and a possible employee participation plan needs to be discussed.

Venice Mayor Tyrone Echols said, "It is impossible for the city to keep up with these rising premiums. We only have two ways to go and that's either to reduce coverage or set a participating program up for employees.

"We certainly want to do the best we can for our employees and I concur with Alderman Valentine in that we need a meeting with everyone covered by the city to review this insurance cost problem and also see just what we are getting for our money,".

The McKinley Toll Bridge traffic report for February showed 277,381 vehicles crossing the bridge, for a daily average of 9,565, a decrease of 209 vehicles a day from February 1979.

Alderman John Ervin said, "I think we ought to study the possibility of putting up some billboard signs advertising the advantages of using our bridge. I think we could put one up on I-70 at I-270."

"That may help and it is certainly worth looking into. I would like to ask Tom Fields, our bridge manager, and the aldermanic bridge committee to investigate this. Let's see where we could possibly put up signs, and the cost," Mayor Echols said.

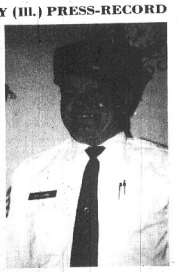

A favorable report on the Illinois Department of Corrections inspection of the Venice jail facilities was noted and placed on file.

The report is available for public inspection.

According to the report, the Venice jail is in complete compliance with correction standards. The report made particular note of how clean the jail is being kept.

Alderman Ervin reported that the street and alley committee members have been looking at a used street sweeper owned by the county. He said Venice Township would purchase the used equipment for the city and also is trying to find a good used payloader.

"What we have now just won't make it another year," Ervin said.

RETIREE. Marion F. Sullivan, 3009 Nameoki Drive, retired last week after 31 years service with the Federal Government. He was a sergeant on the St. Louis Area Support Center police force. He and his wife, the former Wanda Johnson, plan to move in mid-summer to Doniphan, Mo., where they have purchased a small farm.

Births down, deaths rise in February

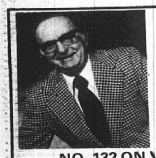

Births declined while the number of deaths rose slightly in the Quad-City area during February, according to a vital statistics report released by City Clerk Robert Stevens.

The report listed 53 births in the area last month, compared with 66 births during the same month a year ago. Forty-three deaths were recorded in February, up from 37 deaths during the same month in 1979.

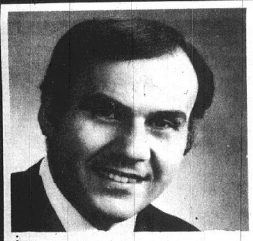

There were no fetal deaths last month, compared to one in February 1979.

The February statistics brought to 130 the number of births during the first two months of this year, compared to 116 in the same two months last year. Deaths during the two-month period totaled 87, compared to 82 in January and February 1979.

MEET
Andy Matoesian
Democratic Candidate For Circuit Judge

Dear Voter

For 14 years I have served as an Associate Trial Judge, hearing a variety of cases, including criminal, damage, and divorce. I feel I have done a good job as an Associate Judge and believe I would be an effective Circuit Judge. Therefore, I am a candidate for Circuit Judge, the next step above Associate Judge in the judicial system.

In the case of People vs. David Gray, the defendant was found guilty of rape, armed robbery and attempted murder and sentenced to 60 years. Gray filed an appeal with the Appellate Court, contesting my imposition of the maximum 60 year sentence. Under Illinois law, the maximum sentence for rape is 30 years; however, if the Judge is convinced that the crime is of a brutal nature, a maximum of 60 years may be imposed. The Appellate Court affirmed the 60 year sentence, including all my rulings.

Among my supporters are George J. Moran, recently retired Judge of the Appellate Court, Fred P. Schuman, former Chief Judge of the Circuit Court, and many lawyers and friends. If you wish to check on my qualifications, please call any lawyer or any judge in your area. You can also ask Emil Toffant, Sheriff of Madison County, who strongly endorses me.

I am opposed by an individual whose practice has been confined to the trial of damage suits, who has no prior judicial experience and whose practice has been confined to one area of the law.

I hope you cast your ballot for me in the Primary Election to be held on March 18, 1980.

Andy Matoesian

P.S. There are eight Circuit Judges in this Circuit, which consists of Madison and Bond Counties. There is no Circuit Judge now living in Granite City, Madison or Venice, yet these cities represent the bulk of the votes for the Democratic Party. If I am not elected, the Tri City area will be without a Circuit Judge. Does this situation make good sense politically, geographically or from the standpoint of good judicial management?

William Black marks birthday

William Lee Black III, 709C Meadowlane, was honored on his birthday with a party given by his parents in honor of his sixth birthday.

A "Super Friends" theme was used in table decorations accompanied by a Bat Man cake.

Prizes were won by Lenny and Meggie Whiteside, Bruce David, Tammy Hayes, Tim Black and Heather Solomon.

Others attending were Melanie Solomon, Derrick Kingsley, Kerri Rebstock, Damon Yates, John Cozian, Jammy, Kate and Rebecca Ross, Chris Hunter, Shawn Hayes, Jason Black, and the honorees sister Misty Roxane.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ross, Howard Black and maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ross.

Another party was held for the guest of honor and his mother, Mrs. Sherry Black whose birthday is on March 3.

A dessert luncheon was served to Mr. and Mrs. Gene Ross, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Lakin, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Ross and children, Jimmy, Kate and Rebecca, Mrs. Margaret Barr, maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Shelly Gorline and Misty Black.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT FLINN of Dorsey, Ill., formerly of Granite City, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary this week at a family dinner held in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Marian Hammond, Dorsey. The honorees were married in Granite City and lived here until Mr. Flinn retired from Granite City Steel in 1971. They also have a son, Maloy Flinn of Granite City, and six grandchildren.

Vacationists tour in southwest area

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Myers of Granite City, have returned from a month's tour in the southwest area of the country.

In Tucson, Ariz., they visited with Mrs. Garent Pierce who is Mrs. Myers mother and the Arthur Martin family. From there they went to Tempa, Ariz., to visit Mrs. Rosemary Baseden.

The local couple were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Spengler, Ervin Weiss, Guy Kinders, Dave Crews, and Dave Gordons in Sun City, Ariz.

As they traveled to Texas Mr. and Mrs. Myers stopped over in Bedford, Texas, to visit with Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Bradford and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Biggor of Grapevine, Texas.

The vacationists then went to Baylor University, Waco, Texas, to get their grandson, Gregory Holder, who came here for his spring break. All are formerly of Granite City.

Chapter HT re-elects officers

Chapter HT, P.E.O. Sisterhood, met at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, Monday, and re-elected officers for another term of office.

Those named to serve for the ensuing year are Mrs. Irvin Slate, president; Mrs. Maurice Dailey, vice-prsident; Mrs. Robert Backs, recording secretary; Mrs. Randall Robertson, corrsponding secretary; Mrs. Leo Konzen, treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Buente, Chaplain, and Mrs. Richard Kerch, guard.

Mrs. Carl Mathias, a past president of the chapter, conducted an installation ceremony during the session.

Mrs. Slate announced a demonstration and procedure session is planned for all officers on March 25 in O'Fallon.

Refreshments were served to 14 members. The next meeting will be hosted by Mrs. E. A. Reiske on March 24. Members are to bring an old treasure to be discussed during the program hour, it was noted.

Circle attends basketball game

Mary K. Groshong entertained the Joy Circle of Niedringhaus United Methodist Church following the final playoff church basketball game held at Coolidge Junior High School.

The business meeting was conducted by Edna Stitch, leader. Members were reminded of the layette program of the Church Women United, at the general meeting to be held in Wesley Hall, tonight.

Other dates brought to the attention of the group were the Wednesday evening Lenten services, a style show and dinner in Wesley Hall on May 8. The reading program for the year was also discussed.

Emily Hahn was in charge of the lesson for the meeting. Two articles were used — "There Wasn't Time" and "A Psalm of Life."

Refreshments were served by the hostess using the St. Patrick's Day theme.

Those attending were: Sue Miller, Carol Carpenter, Susan Kleindorfer, Bernice Wolfe, Shirley Frick, Jean Maxwell, Fern Hahn, Sharon Reader, Emily Hahn, Edna Stetch.

Members of the basketball team and their children were entertained in the family room by Bruce Groshong, coach.

Virginia Wolfe will be hostess for the April meeting. It was noted that meeting will be held one week later than usual on April 10.

Brownies attend Thinking Day

Brownie Troop 454 of Logan School, participated in the Neighborhood Two Thinking Day event held at the Township Hall.

Included in those attending was Samantha McManus, a troop member

Rape prevention film shown

Mary Free from the Southern Illinois University Rape Crisis Center, and Mike Knoke of the Florissant (Mo.) Police Department, were guest speakers at a monthly meeting of the Granite City High School North Chapter of the Future Secretaries Association.

President Suzanne Szadai opened the meeting and introduced the speakers.

They presented two films on the subject of rape prevention that informed the girls of what to do and what not to do in case they should become the victims of a rapist. One FSA member commented, "I found the films very informative and I enjoyed them very much. I think that all girls should see these films."

On April 15, the senior members of FSA will work in an office, arranged by Charlsie Vunovic, NSA adviser, for the entire day.

The FSA field trip is planned on April 22, when the girls will travel to McDonnell-Douglas Aircraft Company. There they will see demonstrations in word processing, the stenographic service center, and the copier-facsimile center.

The FSA banquet is planned for May 13 when awards are given to Miss FSA and Miss Junior FSA, it was announced.

The next meeting is scheduled for March 18, when the members will compete against other girls from Granite City South Chapter in the areas of, typing, steno, spelling, fashion, talent and baking. Winners will receive trophies, it was noted.

SCHOOL ACTIVITIES LETTER

Organizations wishing to use any Granite City School District 9 facilities for any springtime activities must send a letter to the school board office no later than Friday. The letter must list the date, time and location of the building or playing field and the sponsoring organization. It should also have the name, address and phone number of a contact person for the organization.

MARRIED. The former Miss Debra Bushong and Timothy Tedesco exchanged wedding vows in a Feb. 9 ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bushong of Granite City. (McBride Photo)

Debra Bushong weds Timothy Tedesco

Trinity United Methodist Church was the setting for the Feb. 9 nuptials of Miss Debra Bushong and Timothy Tedesco.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bushong of Granite City. The groom is the son of Mrs. Ruth Tedesco, also of Granite City.

Candelabra holding burning tapers and arrangements of winter flowers decorated the altar for the double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Paul Bryant.

Musical selections for the afternoon ceremony were provided by organist Joyce Harris and soloist Ginger Falkner. They included: "If," "The Wedding Song" and "You Light Up My Life."

The bride chose a white organza gown featuring lace trimmed ruffles adorning the bodice and Queen Anne neckline. Venise lace and seed pearl motifs were appliqued on the cuffs and skirt.

The chapel train was accented with matching lace and she wore a walking length veil secured by a Juliet cap.

The bride held a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis, intermingled with pink and white sweetheart roses and greenery.

Her maid of honor was Denise Dittrich. She wore a burgundy polyester gown designed with a scoop neckline and blousson capelet. The long pleated skirt was belted at the waist.

She carried a nosegay of dusty rose and burgundy rosebuds with baby's breath and matching ribbon streamers.

Bridesmaids Lori Bushong, a sister of the bride, and Pam Fuchs wore identically styled gowns and held similar bouquets.

Sheri Bushong, another sister of the bride, was flower girl. She appeared in a pale pink organza floor length gown. A gathered ruffle created an apron effect on the full skirt. She carried a basket with pink and burgundy rosebuds.

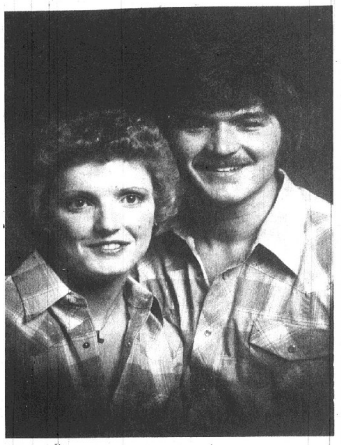

The groom chose Jim Bledsoe as best man. Groomsmen were Allan Benko and George Revak. Brett Milton and Gary Graville seated the guests.

Mrs. Bushong, the bride's mother, wore a teal blue gown with an accordian pleated skirt and blousson bodice. Her corsage was of aqua rosebuds and forget-me-nots.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Tedesco, chose a mint green gown with a matching tunic. She wore a corsage of pink rosebuds and forget-me-nots.

Mrs. Tedesco hosted a rehearsal dinner in her home. The reception was held at the American Legion Hall.

The couple are now residing in Granite City.

ENGAGED. Miss Lynnette Gay Beedle and her fiance Tony Ray Trout whose betrothal is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wayne Beedle, 103 Roger, Collinsville, formerly of Granite City. A May 24 wedding is planned.

Beedle-Trout betrothal

Former residents of Granite City, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Wayne Beedle, who now reside at 103 Roger, Collinsville, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Lynnette Gay Beedle and Tony Ray Trout.

The prospective groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Ray Trout of Highland, Ill.

He is a graduate of Triad High School and is employed at the First National Bank of Collinsville.

Miss Beedle was graduated from Collinsville High School and now works at Jakel Motors, Highland.

The engaged couple is planning to be married on May 24.

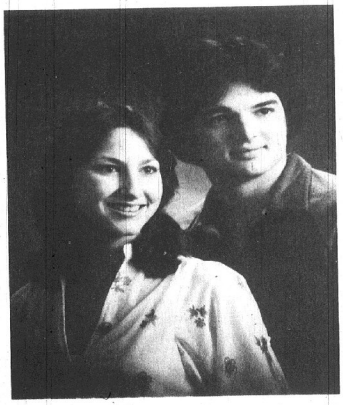

Kinscheroff-Hiles betrothal

Dr. and Mrs. Claude Hiles of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City, are announcing the engagement and forthcoming wedding of their daughter, Leann Hiles to David Kinscheroff of Pleasant Hill, Ill.

Miss Hiles is a 1979 graduate of Edwardsville High School and is presently attending Forest Park Community College for a degree in respiratory therapy. She also works part time in her father's office.

Her fiance graduated in 1978 from Pleasant Hill High School and is currently attending St. Louis School of Pharmacy.

The couple is planning a May wedding.

TO MARRY. Miss Leann Hiles and her fiance David Kinscheroff whose betrothal and plans for a May wedding are being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Claude Hiles of Edwardsville, formerly of Granite City.

REVENUE HEARING

Venice Township will hold a public hearing at 7 p.m. today on proposed uses of revenue sharing funds for the township. The hearing will be held in the township office at 1502 Fifth St., Madison. Persons attending may offer oral or written comments for the town board of auditors to consider when preparing the revenue sharing budget.

Miss Kellee James and James Lewis are wed

Miss Kellee James and James Lewis were united in marriage in a 2 o'clock afternoon double ring ceremony on March 1.

Judge Horace Calvo performed the service in the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kalips, 2140 Grand Ave.

An arrangement of white carnations and yellow daisies flanked by burning blue tapers in white holders provided the altar setting.

Preceding the ceremony Allan Oarhood sang, "For All We Know" and he and Daniel James, a brother of the bride, sang "The Wedding Song."

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Peggy James, 2128 Adams St., and Robert James, 2569 Madison Ave. Parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Alex (Marylou) Bold, reside in Barstow, Calif.

For her wedding, the former Miss James chose a full length white peau de soie gown fashioned with a fitted bodice, high neckline and long bell sleeves accented with delicate lace motifs.

Matching lace appliques marked the Empire waistline and encircled the hemline and chapel train.

She wore a white lace pillbox headpiece to secure her veil of bridal illusion and she held a colonial bouquet of white carnations intermingled with baby's breath and tied with blue satin streamers.

Matron of honor Mrs. Dixie Kalips, a sister of the bride, selected blue print qiana blousson style dress designed with cape sleeves and a gathered waistline.

Mrs. Debbie James, a sister-in-law of the bride, served as bridesmaid. She wore a red print jumper created with spaghetti straps complemented with a white blouse.

Both attendants held a single long stem red rose.

Attending the groom as best man was Daniel James and Michael Kalips, a brother-in-law of the bride, was the groomsman.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kalips entertained members of the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner on the evening preceding the ceremony and also hosted a reception immediately after the wedding service, in their home.

The bride attended Granite City High School South and is presently enrolled at Belleville Area College. Her husband was a student of James Madison High School in San Diego, Calif., before moving to this area.

The newly married couple are now residing in Granite City.

MR. AND MRS. JAMES LEWIS whose wedding was solemnized in an afternoon ceremony at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kalips, 2140 Grand Ave. The bride is the former Miss Kellee James, a daughter of Mrs. Peggy James, 2128 Adams St., and Robert James, 2569 Madison Ave.

Bethesda Temple plans project

Our opinions on the primary election March 18

Many offices are not being contested in next Tuesday's primary election. But there is enough rivalry that even the most complacent of citizens ought to be attracted to the polls.

Quad-Cityans seem destined, along with other Illinoisans, to do what voters have been doing in other states—rally behind the president in the hope that he can solve some of the countless serious problems, economic and otherwise, that have developed since he became president. If this public reaction seems hard to explain, it is precisely that—hard to explain.

Polls uniformly predict a landslide Jimmy Carter victory in the Illinois Democratic primary, partly because of the generally negative reaction in recent weeks toward his principal ballot rivals, Edward M. Kennedy and Edmund G. Brown Jr. Also on the ballot is Lyndon H. LaRouche Jr., who is unlikely to be much of a factor.

Both Sen. Kennedy and Gov. Brown have been articulating their positions on many issues, but neither has been attracting majority support. The president is campaigning in Illinois from the White House, through use of the telephone and surrogates; one of the latter, Housing and Urban Development Secretary Moon Landreiu, spoke in Madison last week.

The supposed reason for the non-campaign is the series of foreign crises, including Iranian capture of American Embassy personnel and Russian warfare against Afghanistan. However frustrating this tactic may be to many persons, it is working marvelously as a successful political technique. Unfortunately, the ability to win election campaigns is not necessarily the same as the ability to govern well once in office.

To be brutally frank, the caliber of the group of 1980 Democratic presidential aspirants does not appear equal to the collective ability of the Republican presidential hopefuls this year, even after the weeding out of Sen. Howard H. Baker Jr., former Gov. John B. Connally and Sen. Robert Dole. Former Gov. Ronald Reagan, former Ambassador George Bush and Illinois Congressmen John B. Anderson and Philip M. Crane all have "done their homework" and have been contributing valuable ideas and viewpoints to the campaign dialogue. All four seem to have the potential to do well in Illinois, and our guess would be a Reagan victory, with Anderson perhaps edging past Bush for second place.

Baker, Connally and Dole remain on the Illinois Republican ballot, as does V. A. Kelley, who—like Democrat LaRouche—is not a significant factor.

On balance, with several negative aspects conceded, the best bets seem to be Pres. Carter on the Democratic side and Mr. Reagan in the Republican primary. They have developed substantive campaign efforts, and would offer clearly differing proposals and platforms if pitted against each other in the November general election.

For the U. S. Senate, we previously endorsed Democrat Alan J. Dixon over Alex Seith and Robert Ash "Bob" Wallace (and over frequent candidates Anthony R. Martin-Trigona and Dakin Williams). And we endorsed Republican David C. O'Neal over William J. Scott and Dick Carver.

For 23rd District congressman, the obvious Democratic choice is the 36-year incumbent, Cong. Melvin Price, chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, over Vic Darnell and Sam P. Drenovac. For the Republican congressional nomination, we have endorsed Ronald L. Davinroy over Phil Montalvo.

Would-be national nominating convention delegates and alternate delegates are listed next on the March 18 ballots. Each Democratic contender is shown with the name of the presidential candidate he or she favors or is designated as uncommitted; Republican convention hopefuls appear only as individuals, rather than being formally linked on the ballot to specific national candidates.

There is no state senate election in the 50th Illinois Legislative District this year.

For three state representative positions, incumbents Sam W. Wolf and Jim McPike are unopposed for two Democratic nominations and incumbent Everett G. Steele has no opposition for a Republican nomination.

Also unopposed in the Democratic primary is veteran Circuit Clerk Willard W. Portell.

Madison County Recorder of Deeds Ronald P. Lucas seeks Democratic renomination and is opposed by David A. Knoblauch. We favor Lucas on the basis of his eight years of effective service in the office and his comprehensive microfilming program, which is credited with substantial tax savings. Knoblauch also could serve well in a county-level elective office.

Unopposed for nominations Tuesday are Arthur Pete Fields, now deputy auditor, for Madison County auditor on the Democratic ticket; veteran coroner Mrs. Dallas M. Burke, Democrat; and state's attorney aspirant Don W. Weber, the lone Republican candidate for a Madison County office.

The state's attorney race within the Democratic Party poses a difficult choice for voters who have been listening to the competing campaign assertions and comparing the records.

We tend to favor incumbent Nicholas G. Byron on the basis of his eight years' experience in the office, and we think a lot of the criticism directed toward him has been inaccurate. Some improvements are needed, in our opinion; the state's attorney has indicated a willingness to consider implementing them.

Dick Allen earned voters' permanent attention in the 1950s by helping the late State's Attorney Dick Mudge turn Madison County from its inappropriate path toward a new era of responsible government. It is understandable that Sheriff Emil Toffant has endorsed him; Toffant was active in a similar fashion in those days as the district state police commander, with Allen serving as an investigator for the prosecutor's office. All three individuals received deserved public gratitude.

We wish Allen, Mr. Mudge and others hadn't been so successful in backing Dan Walker for governor and defeating Paul Simon; they were still unhappy at that time, 1972, with formerly independent-thinking Simon, who years before had fought the Democratic organization to become a state representative but then wouldn't buck it to aid independent-thinking Mudge.

The Mudge-Allen "truth squad" trailed Simon around the state to rebut his gubernatorial campaign talks. Sadly, Simon (then lieutenant governor and now a congressman) probably would have done a much better job as governor than Walker, whose administration proved to be a confrontation-a-day four-year disaster for the state.

All that, of course, is water under the bridge. We don't always agree with Allen but we note his assertion that he has "mellowed and matured." He has lengthy and varied legal experience, has garnered a broad base of support, and undoubtedly would try hard to do a good job if elected.

The third man in the state's attorney nomination race, William R. Haine, is an attractive campaigner and seems likely to be playing an increasingly large role in Madison County government as the years go by.

His present depth of experience might make it hard for Haine to live up to some of the pledges he has made for improved performance of the office. But he unquestionably is a serious candidate, and his ballot rivals recognize him as such. It could be a real three-way "horse race" next Tuesday.

Of nine Madison County Board districts on the primary ballot, three candidates are unopposed for Republican nominations and there are no GOP candidates in six districts, including those in the Quad-City area.

On the Democratic side, in the five non-local districts, no one filed in District 4, three are seeking the Dist. 14 nomination and there are unopposed candidates in Dist. 17, Dist. 18 and Dist. 27.

In Dist. 22, Herbert "Jr." Milton offers eight years of experience on the Madison County Board, including committee service related to personnel, licensing, negotiating and county buildings. Paul W. Kratz is an educator and former industrial worker who would stress merit employment and governmental economy.

The Dist. 23 board member, Roderick Batider, is unopposed for renomination.

Dist. 24 opponents are Frank Dutko and Gary R. Novich. Both would serve industriously. We recommend Dutko on his record of 30 years of effective public service.

Dist. 25 primary rivals are Homer M. Boothman, the incumbent, and Richard L. Peck. We recommend Peck on the basis of his service to Nameoki Township.

Moses W. Harrison is unopposed in the Democratic primary for the George J. Moran position on the Fifth Judicial District Appellate Court.

For the Edward C. Eberspacher appellate judge position, the Democratic primary contenders are Robert Mays, Paul P. "Press" Waller Jr., Horace L. Calvo and Ronald A. Niemann. All but Mays have been recommended by the Illinois State Bar Association. The ratings, in order, were 46.12, 81.96, 76.82 and 78.99. (Judge Harrison received 84.63.)

We endorse Judge Calvo, a former state legislator who has four and a half years of experience as a circuit judge in the local circuit. Our second choice is Waller, a longtime St. Clair County attorney with extensive trial experience.

The same reason, length of judicial service, prompts us to recommend for the Democratic circuit judge nomination A. Andreas "Andy" Matoesian, who has 14 years of busy judicial service. He received a 79.02 Bar Association rating to 85.17 out of a possible 100 for new Circuit Judge Charles W. Chapman.

Both Matoesian and Chapman are highly skilled and could serve well; unfortunately, there is only one position open. Chapman served as a federal judge's law clerk before launching an active legal practice 12 years ago.

No Republicans filed for appellate or circuit judge nominations.

There is no opposition March 18 for three positions on the Regional Board of School Trustees. The candidates are Bill Keller, William S. Freeman and Joseph M. Higgins.

Byron's record being distorted

To the Editor:

One of my opponents has just passed out leaflets distorting the record of the Madison County state's attorney's office.

He fails to mention that, in 1978 alone, according to the court records of Madison County, 514 defendants (counts) were convicted of felonies (serious charges) of which 341 got imprisonment either in the penitentiary or on a periodic basis.

In 1979, according to the court records of Madison County, 538 defendants (counts) were convicted of felonies, of which 316 got imprisonment.

For each year, this is one of the highest rates in the state. I feel that this distortion was uncalled for and indicates his lack of sincerity in this campaign.

He failed to state that counts are dismissed appropriately where multiple counts are brought.

He further failed to include juvenile court convictions and misdemeanor convictions which this office has obtained, running into the thousands.

Last, but not least, he failed to state that Madison County has one of the highest populations in the Illinois penal system.

If elected, I promise to continue to improve my office as I have over the last eight years and to do the job — even though many times unpopular — as called upon me by oath.

The father of a beating victim at SIUE has indicated his anger at the dismissal of an indictment against a certain defendant. He questioned my sensitivity.

While the citizens of Madison County and I regret this occurrence and sympathize with any anger the victim and her family may have, I felt it was the duty of this office, based on further evidence received, to dismiss the case against this defendant.

I regret the statement of the father regarding my sensitivity. Let it be said that I am sensitive to all victims of any crime. My record proves it.

In this particular case, contrary to the statement of the father, I had talked to him on the telephone long distance to North Carolina on there different occasions. On one occasion, I spent 52 minutes on a long-distance call.

He had indicated to me to be careful in discussing this matter with his daughter. Furthermore, he had retained Stephanie Robbins as his attorney to oversee this matter.

Prior to dismissing this case, Robert Trone of my office spent considerable time reviewing all the evidence and the basis of the dismissal with the victim's attorney, Stephanie Robbins, and the director of the Rape Crisis Center, the Division of Criminal Identification and the SIUE police.

It was expected that Attorney Robbins and the Rape Crisis people would relate the facts to the victim. It appears this was perhaps not the case.

As far as this office is concerned, the case remains open and will remain open until sufficient evidence is developed to assure proper prosecution of the proper defendant.

The campaign chairman of one of my opponents has sought to attack my appellate record. He claims that nine reversals by the appeals court are too high.

He is dead wrong, especially when you consider the thousands of cases we handle per year. This is "a drop in the bucket."

Furthermore, some of those appeals reversed by the Appellate Court are on leave to appeal with the Supreme Court of the State of Illinois by my office.

My opponent fails to take into account that one of these reversals was just recently overturned by the Supreme Court of Illinois in favor of the Madison County state's attorneys office. Our persistence in this case has created a major landmark decision in the state, dealing with the question of drug prosecution and entrapment.

My policy has been and will be to protect the people of this county to the fullest extent possible, seeking changes in the Supreme Court decisions for a more favorable result for the people than just for the defendant.

Judge highly qualified

To the Editor:

I am writing a letter to you because there are times when people of opposing views must come together. This is one of those times.

As you know, lawyers and physicians often find themselves on opposite sides of various issues. But today I find myself endorsing Charles Chapman as a candidate for circuit court judge in the March 18 primary.

I know both Mr. Chapman and his wife, Judy, and find them both to be fine people.

Mr. Chapman, in addition, has has extensive trial experience as well as having been selected by the Illinois Supreme Court as the individual most qualified to be appointed to fill the vacancy created when Judge Beatty was elevated to the federal court.

Judge Chapman is now endeavoring to maintain his position on the bench on the basis of his past record and demonstrated competence.

I urge all voters, especially those who are undecided or who know little of either candidate, to check into Judge Chapman's qualifications. I am sure that, if they do, they will feel secure in voting for him to be the Democratic candidate for this very important post.

ROBERT S. HILL, M.D.

Favors an independent

To the Editor:

The March 18 primary is less than three weeks away. Political activity is on the upswing in several precincts, notably Venice Precinct 8.

Although, there are two candidates running for the office of precinct committeeman, there is only one man who has made himself visible to the public, and that man is Robert Grieve.

Bob has been hard at work on voters' doors and talking to them about their many problems within the precinct. I must say that he offers a fresh approach.

Grieve is running as an independent Democrat and did not ask for the endorsement of the City Organization. On election day, there will be few cars working on his behalf.

I'm sure he is aware of that. Still, this does not deter him from talking to the voters of the precinct because he is aware of the fiercely independent-minded voters who make up Precinct 8.

Grieve holds no elective or appointive position. He never has. Isn't it time to discard the politics of the past and look to the future by supporting a man who only wants to be committeeman and not hold several appointive salaried positions? Grieve is showing effort, determination and a sense of responsibility.

Says residency issue not valid

To the Editor:

"P.S. There are eight circuit judges in this circuit, which consists of Madison and Bond Counties. There is no circuit judge now living in Granite City, Madison or Venice; yet these cities represent the bulk of the votes for the Democratic Party.

"If I am not elected, the Tri-City area will be without a circuit judge. Does this situation make good sense politically, geographically or from the standpoint of good judicial management? Andy Matoesian."

This P.S. to a paid political advertisement appeared in the Granite City Press-Record on March 3 and March 6.

The Constitution of the State of Illinois provides that the only residency requirement for eligibility for the office of circuit judge is that the candidate be "a resident of the unit which selects them."

The area which makes up the Third Judicial Circuit consists of all of Madison County and all of Bond County.

The Constitution also provides that the legislature "may provide for the division of a circuit for the purpose of selection of circuit judges and for the selection of circuit judges at large."

The primary contest between Circuit Judge Charles Chapman and Associate Judge Andreas Matoesian falls into the category of the selection of the candidate from the circuit at large which, of course, is both counties.

I feel that circuit judge candidate should be willing to serve the entire circuit and not just the particular geographicl area in which he resides.

WILLIAM W. SCHOOLEY

Aldermen guard public interest

To the Editor:

Regarding the trash hauling controversy, I feel that this anonymous letter sent to the Press-Record totally misrepresents the charges that Mr. Bowler brings to light.

Alderman Bowler obviously researched this problem thoroughly and convincingly. The city will determine all terms, conditions, and specifications and does not need the assistance of a potential bidder in this regard.

The entire premise for any hauler to presume to set conditions is not relevant and not dependent on any other city's needs, regardless of the alleged format used in said document.

The city is here to serve the public and not be subservient to a private corporation. We cannot restrict ourselves to the self-serving, inflationary interests of the few. Our regard for the people has to be given the highest priority in our thinking about this matter.

The city will control invoices based on actual loads dumped at a landfill, not on inadequate guesses as to possible loads.

Alderman Bowler stated that it had never been a separate item to provide Sunday, holiday or emergency hauling of trash and sludge. This service has always been understood as existent and ever-present, and not included as a hidden cost factor which would cost the taxpayers even more dollars.

It also appears quite obvious that, since Alderman Bowler bothered to submit such an argument, that several other companies might be equally interested in being given the opportunity to bid on trash collection. We should not limit our vision to one bidder.

Let there be no doubt that Aldermen Bowler, Schuman and I intend to serve as diligent watchdogs for the public interest and, as long as we are able, will alert the people of Granite City to dangerous excesses or obvious self-interest against the public will.

Reduce prom frills and expenses

To the Editor:

It's that time of year again. Prom time.

Girls are anxiously awaiting invitations from the boys. The fellas would like to go, too, but it's a real financial drain.

What's happening? Why are those attending the prom limited to the affluent or to those foolish enough to spend money they can't afford?

Some can afford the prom expense, with Mom and Dad picking up the tab. Wouldn't it be great if all students, regardless of pocketbook size, could attend the big event of the school year?

The kids aren't going to say they can't afford the prom expense. They'd much rather say they don't care to go.

Why not do a switch? Put it to a vote of the entire student body. Make it a vote by secret ballot so there's no embarrassment.

I'll bet you'd find the kids would like to have the prom expense kept down to where more can afford it. Why not let the fellas wear a good looking sportcoat or suit?

A few dollars added to the cost of renting the tuxedo could be used to buy a sportcoat and the guys would at least have something to wear after the prom is over.

With inflation so out of hand, now is the time to get practical. Granite City students, why not start a trend to being practical?

Cut down prom requirements and let all students decide if they want to go, not if they can afford to go.

1980 fishing licenses here

New 1980 hunting and fishing licenses have been received by Earl's Sports store, Earl Harris, operator of the store, reported Wednesday. The licenses were obtained after requests to the Department of Conservation.

Licenses have not yet been distributed for sale generally, Harris said. The current fishing and hunting licenses expire March 31, but many sportsmen wish to buy a new license rather than buy one that has only a couple of weeks remaining.

City Clerk Robert Stevens said his office has not yet received the new licenses and that he plans to inquire about the matter.

A new type of license, a combined hunting and fishing license costing $11 plus 75 cents clerk fee, is available this year. If bought separately, fishing licenses cost $5 plus 50 cents fee and hunting licenses cost $7 plus 50 cents fee.

Home health care provided here

By JINNY TUETKEN

Until recently medical house-calls were mostly a thing of the past, but St. Elizabeth Medical Center has reinstated the service by offering home health care to eligible patients in the Granite City area.

This program makes it possible for the patient to receive continuing medical care in the home, while surrounded by the family, under the direction of the Home Health Care Department.

The Home Health Care Department of SEMC offers a hospital based, coordinated home health program designed to meet the medical, nursing, social and rehabilitative needs of each patient within the comfortable environment of their home.

"Home health care provides skilled nursing care to patients in the home environment," said Mary Hellige, coordinator of the program.

It allows patients to be home with their families instead of in the hospital or nursing home, an provides them with needed medical services.

Under the program, registered professional nurses provide skilled services to the patients in their homes under the direction of the patient's phyician.

Staff nurses and the patient's doctor decide the program of treatment for each patient and determine the number of visits needed by the home health care nurse weekly.

HOME HEALTH CARE makes it easier for people like Mrs. Ruby Scott (left) to receive medical care in their home. Mary Hellige, R.N., and home health care coordinator, makes several home visits to patients in the local area weekly.

While in the patient's home, the nurse observes symptoms, responses to treatment and medications and reports changes to the physician.

The nurse performs specialized treatments prescribed by the doctor and teaches the patient and family necessary care.

With the services of this program, the patient can reduce the length of time spent in the hospital, or the program may give the family and patient an alternative to nursing home care.

"Our long-term goal is to give the patient as much independence as possible," Mary Hellige said.

"The treatment provided to the patients is to help them live as normal a life as possible and to give them maximum independence."

Home health care is a community program and is designed to take the Medical Center into the community and to the patients who, for one reason or another, do not want or need to be in the hospital or nursing home for a long period of time.

"We can reach more people who need our services this way," she said.

"Any patient in need of skilled care after discharge and whose doctor is on the St. Elizabeth Medical Center staff is eligible for home health care.

Energy emergency plan is called harsh, unworkable

A plan that the federal government is now developing to deal with energy emergencies will not help consumers in time of emergency and in addition may work against long-term energy conservation, according to Frank Beal, Director of the Illinois Institute of Natural Resources.

The Standby Federal Emergency Energy Conservation Plan being developed by the U.S. Department of Energy would confuse the public regarding energy conservation and could cause "resentment and bitterness — and ultimately, perhaps, failure at a time when successful conservation is most urgently needed," Beal commented at a public hearing Monday.

The U.S. Department of Energy is developing the plan in response to the Emergency Energy Conservation Act passed by Congress in 1979.

Under the legislation, the president may declare an energy emergency and set ceilings on the amount of fuel each state should consume.

Illinois and the other states then would be required to develop emergency response plans designed to keep energy consumption below the targets. The standby federal plan would be imposed when a state failed to develop its own plan or when a state plan proved ineffective.

The federal energy department held hearings Monday and Tuesday in Chicago to receive public reaction to the standby plan, which consists of the following elements:

A public education campaign.

Odd-even and minimum purchase restrictions at gasoline stations.

Strict enforcement of the speed limit, with possible reduction of the limit to 50 mph.

Reduced business hours, primarily through elimination of one business day per week.

Carpooling and vanpooling promotion by employers.

Mandatory temperature restrictions in public (and perhaps residential) buildings.

Restrictions on the use of private automobiles; and,

Restrictions on the recreational use of boats.

Beal, head of the state energy agency in Illinois, expressed uncertainty as to whether those measures constituted a response to an energy emergency or a means of forcing individuals and businesses to conserve energy.

"If this is to be a contingency plan," Beal said, "then it ought to focus on those things that can be brought into force quickly, effectively, and with a minimum of disruption."

"Most of the measures in the federal plan, in fact, will take too long to implement and any energy crisis that develops might well be over by the time many of the measures could be put into place," Beal said.

Using the gasoline shortages that developed in the wake of the Iranian revolution as an example, Beal argued that "we already have demonstrated an ability to deal with crisis.

"We were able to cope with gasoline shortages of approximately 10 percent without employing some of the harsh and restrictive measures described in the standby federal plan."

Beal assured the U.S. Department of Energy representatives conducting the hearings that the state of Illinois will prepare an energy contingency plan as required.

"But we will not impose unnecessary restrictions on the freedom of the consumer; we will not threaten business and industry with civil penalties; and we will not rely on measures which are cumbersome to implement," said Beal, who ascribed these characteristics to the federal plan.

He urged the department of Energy to recognize the conservation success that has been achieved by the public, and to ensure that efforts to respond to energy emergencies do not cause consumers to bear unneeded hardships.

Contingency plans for dealing with emergencies, and conservation programs that help consumers in meeting rising energy costs, are both needed, Beal said.

But unless the federal energy department improves the plan it now is developing, both efforts could be hindered, Beal concluded.

Mrs. Mathias hosts circle

Charity Circle of the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church was entertained in the home of Mrs. Betty Mathias, 34 Oaklawn Drive, last week.

The meeting was opened with the group repeating the Lord's Prayer. Devotions were given by Mrs. Karan Ambuehl entitled "The Last Week of the Master's Life" from the Book of Life.

Lenten Coin devotion given by the co-leader, Mrs. Dolores Vogeler, was "Peace With Justice" by Cora Connell from Australia.

Leader Mrs. Mable Getsch reported to the circle on petitions that are to be brought before the general conference. She also reminded the ladies to bring their layette shower gifts for the Church Women United to the March general meeting at the church.

The group was reminded that the Charity Circle will be hostess at the general meeting tonight.

Mrs. Gertsch invited the group to her home for the April meeting.

Refreshments were served to the following: Mesdames Joan Mucho, Mary Rouland, Karan Ambuehl, Eula Davis, Karen Nelson, Phyllis Bills, Elizabeth Briggs, Dolores Vogeler, Mable Gertsch.

Party honors Michael Cook

Michael Cook celebrated his 11th birthday at a party given by his parents this week in their home, 1521 Joy Ave.

A Star Wars theme was carried out in the table decorations.

Those attending were Craig Sykes, Rick Reader, Jeff Grote, Billy Aleksandrann, Missy Coyle, Amy Verdu, Ted Stevenson, Jay Strotheide, Matthew and Dannie Cook, brothers of the honoree and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell.

Games were played during the afternoon and prizes awarded to the winners followed by refreshments.

Mothers Club donates funds

The March meeting of the Lincoln Place Mothers Club was held at the Community Center conducted by President Irene Goede. She led the pledge to the flag and the Lord's Prayer.

Club members approved a $20 donation to the Joseph Gonzalez Scholarship Fund.

A mother's Day banquet will be held May 18 at Charlie's Restaurant, the president noted.

Mrs. Matoesian was welcomed to the club as a new member. Birthday gifts were presented to Bertha Kitchler, Marie Boyd, Verna Michel and Matilda Martinez.

Games were played and refreshments were served by hostesses Mary St. Ivany and Ann Veloff. Prizes for the evening went to Marie Boyd, Mary Driscol, Matilda Martinez, Mrs. Matoesian and Rose Merchoff.

The next meeting is scheduled for April 2, it was announced.

Members wear yellow ribbons at anniversary observance

In 1925, when Granite City was a mere 29 years old, the Macedonian Bulgarian Ladies' Aid Society was founded and has enjoyed continuous existence for 55 years.

The occasion of its 55th anniversary was marked at a luncheon meeting at Ravenelli's Restaurant, last week.

Mrs. Tomea Kirchoff, president, officiated at the meeting which was attended by 36 members. Mrs. Kirchoff stated the club was founded as a social and charitable organization. Money raised from dues and social and cultural projects was to be spent to benefit needy Macedonians and make contributions to organizations and charities. The earliest records showed that at the first anniversary meeting, a geneous donation was presented to the new YMCA whose cornerstone was laid in 1925.

The club does not limit its support to the Macedonian community. It has assisted many groups and charities including the United Way, Salvation Army, Cancer Society, Heart Association, Red Cross, and Cystic Fibrosis Fund. On the intenational level, it has assisted victims of major earthquakes in the Balkans in recent years.

Recognized as proud Americans and patriotic citizens, the members sponsored a bicentennial gala celebration in July 1976.

At the anniversary meeting each member wore a "yellow ribbon" on her lapel in support of the American hostages in Teheran on the 122 day of their captivity. Mrs. Krichoff expressed, as mothers and grandmothers, each is deeply touched by the agony of each American in captivity and sympathize with the families who await the release and return of loved ones. The "yellow ribbons" were symbolic but sincere gesture of concern, she noted.

At the business meeting, the officers were re-elected to another term. They are: Mrs. Kirchoff, president; Mrs. Mary Andria, vice-president; Mrs. Milka Klaysheff, secretary; Mrs. Elizabeth Malincheff, treasurer. On the controlling committee are: Mrs. Rose Donoff and Mrs. Milka Vasiloff.

Mrs. Kirchoff was presented a gold presidential pin for 10 years of service as president, after the election.

The brief program was a "look back with interest and nostalgia" at the past history of the club. Mrs. Andria, first president of the newly organized club at the Lincoln Place Community Center, spoke of the early years and activities. The two honorary members were mentioned. They were Miss Sophie Prather, well known Granite City educator who is now deceased and Mrs. Simon Radeff, wife of the Bulgarian minister in Washington, D.C. in 1925.

Mrs. Klaysheff recited the lyrics of a Bulgarian song and Mrs. Athena Gitchoff sang a Macedonian ballad. Mrs. Mary Natsleff read the by-laws written in 1925 which provoked a chuckle from younger members, it was noted.

Five past-presidents were recognized including Mrs. Mary Andria; Mrs. Mary Natsleff, Mrs. Milka Klaysheff, Mrs. Athena Gitchoff, and Mrs. Stella Londoff.

Mrs. Tasa Georgeff gave the invocation. Following lunch, Mrs. Sophie Kipfer treated the members with chocolates in honor of her mother Mrs. Neeka Papadinoff's 92nd birthday. Mrs. Papadinoff shared birthday wishes with three other March birthday honorees.

A prize (donated by Mrs. Verka Gitcho of Chicago, Ill. in memory of he deceased mother Mrs. Aspacia Eftimoff who was the first vice-president in 1925) was won by Mrs. Andria. Another prize (donated by Mrs. Kirchoff in memory of her mother Mrs. Elena Loman on the 30th anniversary of her death) was won by Mrs. Zoyia Palcheff.

A lacquered mini-tray favor was presented to each member and best wishes were exchanged between members for continued friendship and many more years of activity for the organization, the president announced.

Opti-Mrs. installs officers

Mrs. Gladys Pape was installed as president of the Noon-Day Opti-Mrs. Club of the Tri-Cities, at a dinner meeting held in the Crystal Room of the Missouri Athletic Club, during the weekend.

Gene Sternberg served as installing officer for the 1980 corps of officers to include Mrs. Ruth Sternberg, vice-president; Mrs. Dorothy McCauley, secretary; Mrs. Ann Little, treasurer; and executive committee members, Mrs. Myra Parrish, Mrs. Lydia Nelson and Mrs. Pat Konzen.

Hostesses Mrs. Sternberg, Mrs. Konzen, Mrs. Georgetta Monical and Mrs. Betty McGinnis, welcomed 61 members and guests who attended the 7 o'clock evening dinner and social evening.

David Parrish offered the invocation.

Entertainment was provided by Maurice Dailey, Eric Robertson and William Monical singing Irish melodies. They also led the group singing accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Shirley Blasingame.

Card games were played later and prizes awarded to Shirley Frech, Lee Margraf, Carl Mathias, Maurice Dailey, Elsie Branding, Marge O'Neill, Lydia Nelson, Jo Meyer, Virigginia John, Louise Anderson, Helen Todd, Judy Dailey, Bobbie Roach, Eric Robertson and Elmer Branding.

March meeting of Venice Women's Club

The Venice Women's Club March meeting was held during weekend at the Venice Recreation Center.

Mrs. Elenora Weber, president, conducted the business session and the officers gave their reports and correspondence.

A social hour followed. Games and prizes were provided by the hostesses Mesdames Grace Grimes, Sybil Robbs, Mamie Ponce and Rose Scaturro. A dessert course was served by the committee from tables decorated in the St. Patrick's Day theme.

Miss Jennifer Schaeffer was a guest. Other members present were Mesdames, Jane Harris, Eve Owens, Maude Lewis, Elsie Cavner, Allene Marcus, Ruth Cavner, Lula Kowalski, Alice Mitchell, Bertha Pace and Madonna Groshong.

Next month's meeting will be held March 28 due to the Easter holiday, it was noted.

Homemakers study widowhood program

Extension Adviser, Mrs. Catherine Mauck, presented the major lesson, "Preparing for Unexpected Widowhood," to the Granite City Home Extension Unit at the March noon meeting held at the Nameoki United Presbyterian Church. Mrs. Mauck reported how one can be prepared for the time when a person loses her spouse.

Wilma Owca, chairman, opened the meeting with the pledge of allegiance to the flag. A noon dessert luncheon was served by hostesses, Anna Michels and LaNell Lesseg, preceding the business session. A St. Patrick's day theme was used for the table setting. Each person attending was given a paper shamrock to wear. The wearer of the "lucky shamrock," Martha McIlvoy, won the prize.

It was reported that the annual achievement meeting will be held on April 30 in Highland, Ill. The program theme will be "Happiness is a Homemaker."

The Southwest District meeting will be held May 14 at 12 noon at the Heritage House with a tour of the General Daniel Bissell House, 10225 Bellefountaine Road, St. Louis, to follow. Reservations for attendance at both meetings are due April 1, it was noted.

The unit legislative chairman, LaNell Lesseg, gave a citizenship feature. Mrs. Owca selected Madge Ramsey, Anna Michels and Martha Taylor, for the nominating committee. The names of the nominees for new offices will be submitted at the June meeting. Martha McIlvoy, second vice-chairman, presented the titles of the major lessons for the new year.

A new member, Leona Delaloye, was welcomed by Mrs. Owca. Others attending were, Alma Beckman, Hazel Cline, Marcie Johnson, Janette Kraus, Toni Lynch, Freddie McElroy, Ann Palsgrove, Ann Pare, Helen Parks, Elizabeth Schmidt, Florence Simpson, Irma Taylor, Laura Travis, Adele Wasylak and Mary Zikovich.

132,000 calls at once

The first coaxial-cable system, put into regular long-distance telephone service in 1941, could handle 480 simultaneous conversations. The latest system can handle 132,000 at once.

Mother and daughter celebrate birthdays

Mrs. Venida McCart and her daughters, Mrs. Beverly Beal celebrated their birthdays this week.

After having dinner at Happy Joe's, the celebration continued at the McCart Home where coffee and cake, was served.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Curtis (Cheryl) Pounds and son, Jeffrey, Stanford Beal and Mrs. Mae Goodnight. Gifts were presented to the honorees.

7th birthday of Kathleen Ramsey

Kathleen Rose Ramsey, daughter of Mrs. Mary Ann Ramsey of Granite City, celebrated her seventh birthday at a party given in her honor during the weekend at Happy Joe's Pizza Parlor.

The following guests were served birthday cake, soda, pizza and ice cream, Angela Alexander, Ginger Beasley, Mason Connolly, Donna Delaney, Christopher Duff, Karen Goldschmidt, Robert Gutihues, Jennifer Harris, Brandy Kalips, Tommy Margason, Gretchen Mink, Charles Mountz, Sarah Patton, James Pope, Tia Rees, Michael Smith, Carla Williams, Paul Waltenberger, Nancy Miller, Tina Ramsey, Hope Mountz, Elizabeth and Kim McCoy, Scott and Wendy Chamberlain, Mrs. Cis Mountz, Mrs. Ginny Williams, Mrs. Robert Mink, Mrs. Candy Chamberlain, Sister Megan Marie and Mrs. Ramsey.

Anderson gaining campaign momentum in Illinois, nation

As recently as a month ago, U.S. Representative John B. Anderson was little known outside the Congressional district in northwestern Illinois he has represented for nearly 20 years.

Even though he had been a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination since his announcement last June 8, he had not received the attention some candidates did. Nevertheless, the campaign of the white-haired Rockford native began to catch on as the March 18 Illinois and April Wisconsin presidential primaries neared.

His performance at the January televised debate in Iowa among most of the Republican contenders displayed an articulate candidate who spoke in specifics, his backers say. That view was buttressed by his appearance in a second TV debate shortly before the New Hampshire primary last month.

Such television programs as CBS's Sixty Minutes, NBC's Saturday Night Live and Public Television's Bill Moyrers' Journal found the dark horse from Illinois a fascinating study. So, too, did cartoonist Gary Trudeau, whose comic strip "Doonesbury" began featuring a lonely, avid Anderson supporter.

Then, on Tuesday, March 4, the obscurity lifted as voters in the Massachusetts and Vermont primaries gave Anderson two second place showings, each within a few hundred votes of the winner.

John Anderson was no longer a dark horse. Political experts proclaimed him a major factor in the presidential politics of 1980.

Public attention soon fastened on Illinois, where the first primary in a major Midwestern state would be held, and where Anderson took his message of "common sense and plain dealing."

"Instead of trading upon glib promises of more energy production," Anderson said as he campaigned, "we should level with the American people.

"Conservation can make an important contribution to our national security and reduce the chances of precipitous military involvement in the Persian Gulf. The only question is whether we have the moral and political courage to act in the defense of our vital interests.

"I, for one," Anderson continued, "will not perpetrate so cruel a hoax as to promise a budget that cannot be delivered, or an energy policy that cannot be fulfilled.

"The greatest danger that we face today is not the Soviet Union; it is our unwillingness to make the sacrifices that are necessary for the defense of our vital interests."

Anderson was born in Rockford Feb. 15, 1922. He was valedictorian of the 1939 graduating class of Rockford Central High School and was Phi Beta Kappa from the University of Illinois where he received his bachelor's degree.

World War II interrupted his law education. He served two and a half years in the Army as a field artilleryman in Europe, winning four battle stars.

After the war, he earned law degrees from the University of Illinois and Harvard.

Anderson first ran for office in 1956, and was elected state's attorney of Winnebago County. Three years later, in 1960, Anderson ran for Congress from Illinois' 16th District and gained a decisive victory. He has been re-elected nine times.

In Congress, Anderson proved himself as a leader in varied legislative initiatives and, in 1971, he was appointed chairman of the House Republican Conference, one of his party's highest positions.

Anderson married the former Keke Machakos in 1953. They have five children ranging in age from 26 to 8 — Elenora, John Jr., Diane, Karen and Susan.

The family maintains homes in Washington and Rockford, where Anderson is an active member of the First Evangelical Free Church.

NEW BUS SHELTER INSPECTED. Madison Second Ward Aldermen Frank Dutko, left, and William Gushleff inspected a new Bi-State bus shelter over the weekend. The shelter, located at McCambridge Avenue and Rhodes street, has been sought by the two aldermen for nearly two years. Many people in the area requested that the aldermen try to obtain the shelter. Hope for CB crackdown in Pontoon Beach area

"Big brother" may soon be watching CB (citizen band) radio operators, especially in the Pontoon Beach area.

The Pontoon Beach Village Board voted Tuesday night to write a letter to the Federal Communications Commission asking that an FCC mobile monitor be brought to Pontoon Beach to monitor CB broadcasts and arrest those violating federal regulations.

"We have had numerous complaints about people using extra power on their CB radios illegally and disturbing television and radio reception," Village Board President Paul Bennett stated.

In other business, the village decided to transfer Dispatcher Chris Mathenia from the Manpower payroll to the village's regular payroll and to request that another dispatcher be appointed by Manpower.

The board discussed the village's insurance coverage and a proposed new program, but no official action will be taken until the current policies expire.

Bennett reported a committee to study the feasibility of annexations to the village was appointed during the weekend and Joseph Garcia of Miracle Manor was named chairman, with Donald Patrick of the village as co-chairman.

Garcia is interested in annexing Miracle Manor and other parts of Nameoki Township into the village, Bennett said.

Others appointed to the committee were Tom Bouschard, Jim Denham, Frank Mehelic, Marvin Ribbing and Earl Arnold. The Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department is to name about 15 firemen to the committee and the village trustees are automatically members of the committee, under the village resolution which called for its creation.

Bennett has said the village is conducting a detailed study of various areas surrounding the village to determine if annexation would increase revenues to the village, without having a detrimental effect on police and fire protection and other village services to the entire village.

Areas being studied include property west of the village to the Granite City border, south to Lakeside Airport, east through the former Kaseberg Farm property and north to Interstate 270, Bennett has said.

Debate drainage plan

The Nameoki Town Board of Trustees Monday night took under advisement a request by Frank Mehelic for health funds to improve drainage on Orville Avenue.

Mehelic is requesting $4,443 to improve the drainage, but the trustees indicated they wanted to examine the site to determine whether it would qualify as a health problem or whether it would fall within the normal scope of duties of the highway department and should be funded by that department.

Trustees also indicated they would like Mehelic to agree to repair blocked drainage facilities at Minerva and Paul streets, before they agree to fund the Orville Avenue improvement.

The trustees were reminded that a combined budget hearing and regular meeting will be held Tuesday, March 25, beginning at 7 p.m. in the town hall. There will be no meeting that Monday night.

Residents are invited to study and comment, orally or in writing, on the township's tentative budgets for the town fund, general assistance, revenue sharing, road and bridge, special hard road and municipal retirement.

Mondale in area Saturday

Vice-President Walter F. Mondale will be in Belleville and East St. Louis on Saturday evening.

He will arrive at Scott Air Force Base at 5:45 p.m. and a news comment session will be held at the base operations center.

Later, the vice-president will attend a reception at Augustine's Restaurant in Belleville, beginning at 7 p.m.

From Belleville, he will travel to East St. Louis Lincoln High School for an 8 p.m. rally. Both events are free of charge and are open to the public, a spokesman said.

ARRESTED FOR CALLS

Cynthia Sergerson, 19, of 1104 Kirkpatrick Homes, was charged with disorderly conduct after a telephone trap allegedly indicated she had made 15 disturbing telephone calls between 1:52 a.m. and 2:31 a.m. March 9 to the apartment of Otis Venable, 3804 Kirkpatrick Homes. Venable said when he answered the phone, there was no answer. The calls continued until he took the receiver off the phone cradle.

WHY YOU SHOULD RE-ELECT NICHOLAS G. BYRON STATE'S ATTORNEY

Able, hard-working staff is serving public well—Byron

How does Madison County State's Attorney Nicholas Byron sum up his eight years in office as he seeks another four-year term? Following are his thoughts:

"A complex, well organized, strong, honest, resourceful, professionalized office consisting of 14 full-time prosecutors, three part-time prosecutors, four law interns and nine secretaries. All working together as a team.

"Plan to hire one investigator, two new assistants and one part-time assistant for Granite City.

"Daily 24-hour police service.

"One of the best offices in the United States, not just Illinois.

"High visibility.

"Dramatic effects — on reduction of crimes.

"Over $500,000 working budget, efficiently used, giving taxpayers maximum return.

"Millions collected for local municipalities, Madison County, and state of Illinois.

"Work with and cooperate with dozens of agencies."

FELONY DIVISION:

"Highest conviction rates. One of highest inmate populations in Menard and in local jails; 59 felony convictions in month of November 1979 alone.

"Career Criminal Program funded by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration.

"Rape program working hand in hand with victim-witness assistance group. First in area.

"White Collar Crime and Fraud Division.

"New Arson Task Force now in the office.

"Automobile-Reckless Homicide program in office.

"Warrant Office — setting new standards. More cases filed and convicted since inauguration, with central control.

"Best police relations in history of Madison County.

"Regular crimes staff — high conviction rates.

"All dockets current — our concept of swift and certain punishment for the criminal."

MISDEMEANOR DIVISION:

"Thousands of cases handled per year.

"Serious and minor misdemeanors.

"Traffic matters. Represents about 30 agencies.

"Appearances all covered.

"All walk-in complaints handled and funnelled — thousands interviewed.

"Police liaison program now being studied by an LEAA-funded organization out of Washington, D.C. Coordinates all misdemeanors with follow-through to disposition."

CIVIL DIVISION:

'Super' Trojans stun Lawrenceville

By KEVIN ALLEN
of the Press-Record

CHARLESTON– Madison Trojan Mark Zarr had a wild-eyed look as he slammed a basketball hard against the walls and floor of the lockerroom at Eastern Illinois University's Lantz Gym Tuesday night.

There was a reason, though, for Zarr's madness, as well as the general jubilation of the rest of the Trojans. They had just beaten Lawrenceville in the Charleston super-sectional, 74-68.

They had earned a trip to Champaign, tommorrow to compete for the state class A championship with the wild overtime victory. They will face Chicago Timothy Christian at 8:30 p.m. in the U of I Assembly Hall.

And now they were revelling in the sweetness of the moment.

"Coach didn't think I could play under pressure," the 6-5 sophomore Zarr said. "But I showed him."

Zarr, who replaced Madison's Morris Hughes after the Trojans' scoring mainstay fouled out in the fourth quarter, scored two clutch baskets.

Nominate Zarr as a star. Then there was Trojan Pat Hatter and his 23 points. The 6-1 guard scored Madison's last eleven points, all with under two minutes left, the last six, unanswered, with under a minute left.

Another strong candidate, Kerwin Stanley came up with two consecutive steals in overtime and hit four free throws.

Kerry Guest played strong defense, even when the Trojans seemed headed surely for defeat, had six rebounds and eight points.

Hughes had 15 points in three quarters.....

The list goes on, but every entry points clearly to one fact. The Madison Trojans are winners.

And like Zarr proclaimed, they showed 'em.

Lawrenceville coach Ron Felling got the message. "I really think we played a better game," he said as he crushed a paper cup from which he had been drinking. "We took the game to them. But we slowed down some late, and when it went to overtime the momentum changed.

"That's it in a nutshell. once in overtime I didn't like our chances."

Felling could be excused for seeming disheartened as cast about for explanations for the gang of reporters that encircled him after the game. He had seen the Trojans work the game to a tie even after they trailed by six points with 58 seconds left.

But Madison, and especially Hatter, was rolling. 48 seconds — Hatter rebounded and hit from close in. 62-58.

Lawrenceville's Joe Novsek missed a subsequent free throw.

28 seconds left — Hatter hit from outside. 62-60. He was called for a foul of the Indians' Kelly Newlin after the shot.

Newlin missed the free throw with 19 seconds left.

12 seconds left — Hatter hit a 20 footer. The game was tied.

In the last minute, the Indians missed four free throws. That, and Madison's regained poise, cost them the game.

Ironically, the Indians missed only three other free throw attempts the entire game in 33 tries. Up to that point in the fourth quarter, Lawrenceville was 15 for 16 from the line.

"I guess it was the law of averages. I don't know," Felling said. "We've responded to pressure all year. Those free throws would have iced it. We just didn't get it in."

Never-say-die Trojans take on 'Indian Fever'

"Charleston has been good to us, we've won three super-sectionals there. Madison will have to prove to us that we can be beaten there." — Ron Felling, Lawrenceville coach, after the Indians won the Bridgeport Sectional.

CHARLESTON — With these words behind them, the Lawrenceville Indians, led by the distinctive little coach with frizzy hair, opened shirt, and denim pants and vest, took the stage at Eastern Illinois University's Lantz Gymnasium.

It was big-time setting for a high school basketball team from a town with a population of about 8,000 people.

But then high school basketball is big-time in Lawrenceville.

Lincoln bombs Alton

By RICK WELLE
for the Press-Record

EAST ST. LOUIS — Alton coach Stan McAfoos could offer no excuses. His basketball team had a cohplete breakdown in the second half of its first game in the East St. Louis Class AA Sectional Tournament. The Redbirds lost to East St. Louis Lincoln 85-63 here Wednesday night.

The Redbirds appeared to control the game through most of the first half, leading by seven at the end of the first quarter and then by ten at the half, 41-31.

But the second half was something completely different.

The Tigers outscored Alton 54-21 in the second half. During one six-and-half-minute stretch, the Redbirds were outscored 32-6.

McAfoos wasn't sure what happened. "You tell me and we'll both be alike," he said. "Hell, we had the opportunities, but the kids lost all aggressiveness in the second half, all their confidence. I just don't understand it, a total collapse like that.

"The same thing happened to us in Carbondale against (Chicago) St. Patrick," he said. In the Crbondale Holiday Tournament, the Redbirds blew a comfortable lead in the last three minutes of the game against the Chicago school.

"We played 26 ball games, and played two second halves the way we did tonight. We just played like that two times. I just don't understand it," he said.

"They're streak shooters," he said of the Tigers. "They can get hot and score a lot of points in a hurry. But even if they got hot that wouldn't bother me if we had played the way we're capable of playing. It's just hard to explain."

Lincoln coach Bennie Lewis was able to find his own explanation, however. "The things we had been working on in practice we weren't doing in the first half," he said in a jubilant lackerrom. "But we're a pretty good second half team. Our guys can run up and down the floor pretty well.

"We had set up something to stop (Troy) Washpun and (John) Smith and we weren't doing it. So in the second half, we went back to our basic defense — a 2-3 zone or man-to-man.

"we let Washpun and Smith go and it worked out all right," Lewis said. Smith finished with 22 points for the Redbirds, while Washpun only had eight.

"I've seen Alton a few times before, and they usually do well when they're ahead. "So i said if we could just catch them we'd be all right. We can get up and down the floor better than they can," Lewis said.

"We just went back to doing the things we've been doin' all year long, and everything fell into place," he said.

What the Tigers did was run...and run some more, until late in the game when they were able to let the air out of the ball and hold on for the win.

Todd Porter proved to be a big factor for Lincoln again last night. The 6'5" 185 pound soph scored six points in the first half, but added another 13 in the second for 19 total. The Tigers' other 6'5" soph, Tyrone Jackson, finished with 14 points.

In the second half, one key was the two sophomores teaming up inside to block shot after shot once the Redbirds had turned cold from the outside. In addition, Porter and Jackson each had ten rebounds.

After the game, Porter was almost incoherent with joy. "We said we gonna win...we gonna win," he shouted. "An' we did it!"

The win upped Lincoln's record to 23-1, and dropped Alton's final record to 23-3. Lincoln will now advance to the sectional champoionship against Edwardsville Friday at 7:30 p.m. Edwardsville edged Belleville East Tuesday night in the first game of the sectional 55-53.

Effingham holds off Carbondale

Special to the Press-Record

WEST FRANKFORT — The Effingham Flaming Hearts continued their tear toward what they hope is an all-expense paid trip to Champaign here Wednesday night by holding off Carbondale 84-74 here in the West Frankfort Class AA Sectional.

The victory means that Effingham (26-1) will face surprising Mount Vernon Friday night in the tournament's championship game. Mount Vernon edged Mascoutah 58-57 Tuesday night in the first game of the tourney.

Effingham seemed to have things in control through most of thefirst half, even though the gap between it and the Terriers was closer than most of the Hearts' games this season.

But the Terriers seemed to catch fire when their best player, Craig Bardo, fouled out with 31 seconds left in the third quarter.

With 4:42 left in the game, Effingham had gone flat and Carbondale had crept to within 71-68. But then Effingham's University of Illinois-bound star, Mitch Arnold made a layup and then the Hearts went into the delay game, which caused Carbondale to foul.

Effingham's 7'2" German exchange student, Uwe Blab, scored 17 points and grabbed 11 rebounds before fouling out in the fourth quarter. Arnold had 25 points and 13 rebounds. Bardo had 23 points for Carbondale, all in the first half.

The Sporting Thing

Ron and Bud

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

A tale of two coaches:

First, there is Ron. The flamboyant one. Likes to dress like a cowboy. Likes to tie one on now and then. Has a good time.

But underneath it all, there is something else to Ron. He's intense. No, make that passionate.

A passionate high school basketball coach? You betcha. He loves the game. But then the game has been pretty good to him too.

Ron's the idol of many a high school basketball coach in Illinois. He's done it all. He's won two state championships and a third place. He's turned out many college players from his program. And that's saying quite a bit since he lives in a town with only about 8,000 people in it.

So why does Ron stay there? He's surely had offers from bigger schools. The answer is simple.

Ron is in charge. He runs his town.

Somebody who wasn't a take-charge guy couldn't have survived in the town. But when Ron came in and took the reigns, people sat up and took notice.

He's a legend. Reporters from all over the state know him on sight. They love to interview him. He's colorful. He's almost intimidating.

Especially to fans of opposing teams. He runs up and down the floor almost as much as his basketball players do. He doesn't just pace, he runs, sometimes all the way down the floor past the opposing team's bench.

He intimidates officials, too. They don't like to admit it, but he does. every coach tries to. But Ron does it. With color and style. He's not the kind of guy you can hate, even though a lot of silly high school basketball fans swear they do.

Ron's team this year was one of the best in the state. They won 27 games and lost only four.

Which brings us to Bud. Bud is one of those other coaches who has looked up to Ron. He got his start a little later than Ron did, and hasn't accomplished quite as much. But that could all be changing.

Bud and Ron are good friends. They have been for a long time. They both are from Indiana, where people eat, sleep, drink and live basketball.

But Bud's team had never played Ron's. Until this year, that is.

Bud, you see, has a pretty fair team himself this season. It has won 26 games and lost only five. Bud isn't as colorful or intimidating as Ron. But then, who is?

Bud likes to have a good time as well as anybody else. He's known by almost as many people around the state as Ron is. And he's a good interview, too.

Bud doesn't run his school's town. But basketball does. A state championship trophy in the trophy case in the hallway of their tiny gym gives evidence to that.

Well, Bud's team and Ron's team were on their ways to the "Big House," the Assembly Hall where the State Finals are held each year in March. But only one of them could go to play. The other had to watch from the stands. That's because the two squads had to play each other in the game that decided which would play which wouldn't.

For about three-and-a-half quarters of that game, it was obvious that Ron's team would be the one playing at the State Finals and Bud's would be the one watching from the seats. Ron's boys were making asbumbles of Bud's boys. Early in the game, it looked like a rout.

But then it happened. Like lightning. Bud's team started playing basketball. Not that Ron's didn't. It was just that destiny seemed to take charge of the situation.

Trailing by eight points with a minute to go, Bud's team came back to tie the score with only seconds left in the regulation game time and sent it into overtime.

In the overtime, it was like the two teams had switched uniforms. Bud's team ran away and his with the win.

In the lockerrom after the game, Ron was drained. He looked anything but colorful. "We had our chances," he said staring at the floor, his eyes red. "We missed some pretty important free throws that could have won it for us."

It wasn't that Ron's team had choked. More like Bud's team had destiny on its side.

Lincoln girls beat Warriors 62-46

By NANCY WEIL
for the Press-Record

CAHOKIA — The Granite City South girls basketball team lost to East St. Louis Lincoln, 62-46, Tuesday evening in regional play at the Cahokia High Schol Gym.

Simple enough, but there is more.

Some quick subtracting shows that South lost by 16 points. Only 16 — to the top team in this region, and possibly even the state.

South Coach Norm Grote had no complaints. "They played their hearts out. I'm relly proud of them," he said.

The loss left South with a 15-3 record in Grote's initial year of coaching the Warriors.

Lincoln's Barbara Gilmore put in 15 before she fouled out in the fourth quarter.

And South out rebounded Lincoln, 30-27. "We really played with momentum. We rebounded well. The girls played their hearts out," said Grote.

The only real noticeable problem South ran into was a series of turnovers in the second quarter. The Warriors lost the ball four times in rapid sucession.

Once on a turnover a foul was called and Lincoln put both free shots in. Immediately after, Lincoln stole the ball, drove up the center and scored.

The ball was stolen right after it was thrown back in to start play. Again, Lincoln converted the turnover into a field goal.

The remainder of the second quarter was spent in a stall executed by Lincoln. It became very frustrating for South. Lincoln simply did not pass the ball for nearly 20 seconds.

The halftime score was 29-16, with Lincoln on top.

South kept pace with Lincoln's scoring in the second half. The Warriors put in 30 points to Lincoln's 32.

"We couldn't have gone out any better," said Grote of his team's last game of the year. "Three of the girls were playing their last game."

Susan Bell, Laura Gabriel and Betty Bulva ended their high school basketball careers against Lincoln.

"Lincoln is one of the best teams around, and we came within 16 points of them," said Grote. For some reason he couldn't seem to stop smiling.

With the win over South, Lincoln will face Collinsville for the Cahokia Regional title Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

South ousts North

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

CAHOKIA — The Granite City South girls basketball team defeated crosstown school Granite City North here Monday night in the first round of the Cahokia Class AA Regional Tournament. It was the third time the Warriors had beaten the Steelers this season.

But this time it wasn't quite as easy as in the first two games. In fact, the Steelers came within an eyelash of pulling off a victory.

Despite a fourth quarter comeback by North, South came away with a 66-53 victory and the right to meet top-seeded East St. Louis Lincoln Tuesday in the semifinals (see related story).

North came from behind to climb within five points at 56-51 with 5:15 remaining in the game, enough to give South coach Norm Grote something to worry about.

"They (North) played extremely well tonight," said Grote. "They came back and never gave up. They've improved a great deal this season."

But that was as close as the Lady Steelers would get. At the 4:51 mark, South standout Chris Boyd hit a 20-footer from the right baseline to make it 58-51. But back came North.

With 3:50 showing on the clock, Kathy Waldo came out of nowhere to grab a rebound out of the hands of a South player after a Steeler had missed the front end of a one-and-one situation.

Waldo fed the ball back out to teammate Lesilee McIntyre who popped in a 15-footer to make it 58-53.

But South started slowing it down, stalling for an easy shot the rest of the way and eventually ended up with the 13-point bulge on several free throws and back-door plays the final moments.

North coach Harry Cooke, while disappointed with the loss, did not seem extremely so. "I'm very proud of the way we stayed in there with South tonight," he said. "There were times when we could have given up, but didn't.

"I'm very pleased that their (South's) press didn't bother us as much as it had in the past."

South, as has been its trademark all season, employed the full-court press at the beginning of the second quarter. It promptly turned what was a somewhat narrow lead into a healthy one. But in the third quarter, it didn't turn out that way.

North seemed unphased by the South pressure and began its comeback attempt.

"I just told the girls at halftime to keep their composure," said Cooke. "We remained calm the third quarter and their press didn't bother us that much."

McKinnon, Mulach hockey all-stars

GRANITE CITY — Two Granite City South Warriors have been named to the American Conference All-Star team in the first-ever Mid-States High School Hockey League All-Star game.

Billy McKinnon, a forward, and goalie Greg Mulach were tabbed here earlier this week in voting for the contest, which will be played at the St. Louis Checkerdome March 22 at 5 p.m., prior to a game between the St. Louis Blues and the Washington Capitals.

McKinnon was picked by his South teammates as the player they wanted to represent them in the game. Each team chose one player it wanted to play in the game. Only seniors were eligible.

Goalies were chosen by the respective coaches of the two teams. Mulach, who is one of the top prep goalies in the St. Louis area, was picked by American coach Dave Schnieder of DeSmet High. Mulach also plays for the Junior 'B' Brentwood Blazers.

The game will pit the best players from the West and North divisions (the American Conference) against the best from the South and Central divisions (the National Conference).

Tickets for the game are priced at $5 each. They entitle the holder to see both the All-Star game and the Blues game for the same price. The tickets normally sell for $6 at Blues games. They will be available from any member high schools representative. In Granite City, they are available from Jack Mulach at Maryville Grade School.

St. Louisans dot Olympic soccer list

EDWARDSVILLE — The makeup of the United States Olympic soccer squad has been announced by the American national coach, Walter Chyzowych, in the office of the United States Soccer Federation in New York City. It will be a 21-man squad and will include nine St. Louisans, who are currently in training at Orlando, Fla.

The U.S. team will compete with national teams from Costa Rica and Surinam, a Dutch possession in South America, for the right to advance to the Round of 16, which will play in the Olympic Games at Moscow in mid-August.

St. Louis-area soccer fans will have the opportunity to see the U.S. soccer players in action against Costa Rica Tuesday night, March 25, at Southern Illinois University's Cougar Field at Edwardsville. Kickoff time is 7:30 p.m.

The first and second teams in the home-and-home series between the U.S., Costa Rica and Surinam will advance to the games in Moscow. The U.S., under the coaching of SIU-E's head each, Bob Guelker, last qualified for Olympics' Round of 16 in 1972.

The local members of the United States team include: Ty Keough, former St. Louis U. star and players for the St. Louis Steamers, two other Steamers, Njego Pesa and Tony Bellinger; and three members of the Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville soccer team—Don Ebert, Tim Clark and Bob Bozada (Bozada was named an alternate).

Ice tourney set

GRANITE CITY — The Granite City Amatuer Ice Hockey Tournament will be held this weekend at Wilson Park here.

The tournament will have Saturday and Sunday sessions. Saturday play will begin at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, it will begin at 6:30 a.ma. and at 12 p.m.

There is no admission. Teams entered are from Granite City, Pekin, Peoria and Decatur.

Indoor soccer

CHARLESTON — The third Annual Eastern Illinois University Indoor Soccer tournament will be held Sunday, March 16 at the Lantz Fieldhouse. The games will begin at 9:00 a.m.

Eastern will field two squads in the tournament with ten other teams competing.

Joining the Panthers and E.I.U., the two host teams, will be Greenville, Macmurray, Harris-Stowe, Wisconsin-Milwaukee, Illinois, SIU-Carbondale, Belleville JC, Wisconsin, Lewis, and the Prairie Stars.

The games will consist of two 15 minute halves so a new game is expected to start every half-hour.

The teams will be divided into three brackets with the winners, along with one wild card team advancing to the semi-final round.

The round robin tournament will conclude with the championship game slated to begin at 8 p.m.

Rockets beat Benton

CARBONDALE — The Okawville Rockets held off a secnd half comeback attempt by the favored Benton Rangers here Tuesday night to come away with a 58-56 upset victory in the Carbondale Class A Super-Sectional game.

The win, Okawville's second squeaker over Benton this season, means that the Rockets will travel to Champaign Friday and Saturday for the Class A State Finals. They will play Mount Pulaski Friday at 11:15 a.m. in the first quarterfinal game.

All-State center Gary Moeller scored 22 points for Okawville, including a 15-footer with 14 seconds remaining in the game. Benton trailed 33-28 at halftime.

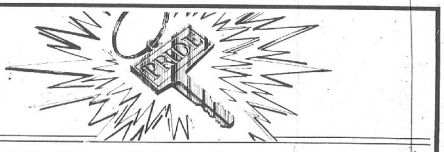

Okawville raised its record to 27-5 and Benton is 23-7.

Soccer camp set

ST. LOUIS — The Burt Ranch Soccer Camp, directed by St. Louis Steamers head coach Pat McBride will begin its eighth season of operation with three one-week sessions June 22-27, July 6-11 and July 13-18. The camp offers intensive soccer instruction for boys aged 7-16. In its first seven years of operation, the camp has enrolled nearly 1,500 boys.

"We concentrate on four areas," McBride said, "Fitness, technique, improving a player's understanding of the game and impressing on a player that soccer is a team sport."

Campers learn from an experienced staff. McBride, besides coaching the Major Indoor Soccer League's Steamers, also has been named to coach the Central Division all-stars in the MISL All-Star Game in St. Louis Feb. 27. McBride earned All-America honors twice at St. Louis University and played in the North American Soccer League for 10 years.

Co-directing the camp is Bob Brunette, athletic director of the Affton School District in St. Louis County.

Boys stay at the camp full-time. Tuition is $130 per week and includes room and board. For more information, those interested may write the camp at 731 Davemar, St. Louis, Mo. 63123 or call (314) 631-7114.

'Super'

"I thought the turning point was when the 6-3 kid (Doug Novsek) fouled Hatter on top of the layup," Madison coach Larry Graham said. "That made it a three point lead instead of six. Then Hatter hit a 20-foot jump shot from the top of the key and we had a new life."

Lawrenceville was spent by the overtime period. It's momentum gone with Madison's surprising finish, the Indians struck first, but then saw the Trojans run to a four-point lead.

Madison slipped into a stall with a little over a minute left, forcing Lawrenceville to foul. Hatter hit two free throws, Joe Novsek manage to cut the Trojan lead back to four, then Stanley completed the victory with four straight free throws.

"We wanted to get inside the lane and score early," Graham said of the overtime. "If we're playing ahead it's a different game. If we get behind it's a different story."

A different story, like the beginning of the game when Lawrenceville whipped off eight straight points and slapped Madison with handicap that it would carry throughout the game.

Hughes finally scored the Trojans' first points with 3:27 left in the first quarter. The Indians led 18-8 at the end.

In the second quarter the Indians continued to out-rebound Madison and beat the Trojans down the floor. More than once Madison was surprised by Indian Ken Hughes' back-door baskets.

Still, the Trojans shot well enough to pull the score to 31-27 at the half, and seemed to climb back into the game in earnest.

"We went to real tight passes in the second half," Graham said. The move allowed Madison to cut the lead to two when Hughes hit from the corner 5:46 left in the period.

The Indians took the two-point lead into the fourth quarter. But then Hughes left the game with just a minute gone, and Madison seemed in trouble.

Lawrenceville slowed it down.

About that time, though, Madison began the run that ultimately tied the game.

Jenner changes mind

MASCOUTAH — Kris Jenner, the all-state basketball and football player from Mascoutah has had a change of heart.

Jenner, who announced two weeks ago that he will attend Kentucky on a basketball scholarship next season, announced here Tuesday that he has changed his mind and will play football at the University of Illinois next fall instead.

Jenner, a 6'6", 215 pound quarterback, led the Indians to the Class 3A state championship last fall.

According to a spokesman, Jenner hasn't signed a Big Ten letter-of-intent yet, but that he will probably sign it soon. He previously had signed a Southeastern Conference basketball letter-of-intent.

Never

With two state championships and a third place in the past eight years, there's good reason.

The Lawrenceville faithful wear uniforms — red sweaters, black pants, red warm-up jackets (as if they needed to be warmed-up).

It wasn't SRO when the Indians ran onto the floor of the Lantz gym, Tuesday, but that's because many of the Lawrenceville people took perches on the overhangs and balconies closer to the floor of the gym.

In all, about 4,500 people populated the arena. Maybe a fourth of them, judging from the big section of Trojan green, were Madison fans.

The other three-quarters of the gym was a horseshoe of Indian red.

It looked like Christmas.

Then the game began. If Madison hadn't noticed the presence of the sea of red or figured out its significance, it got a quick dose of Indian fever.

Lawrenceville reeled off eight unanswered points to start the game. The Lawrenceville fans became unreeled.

The old saying about the sixth man in the gym was replayed with feeling. There were thousands of screaming heads attached to those red sweaters, and the Trojans were the ones doing the sweating.

It became evident by halftime the game was headed for a firecracker ending. It was also evident why Felling dressed so casually.

The place was so hot that Madison coach Larry Graham's face began to glow as red as the Lawrenceville sweaters.

When Madison fell behind by almost ten points with less than a minute left, Felling's words began to ring in the Madison crowds' memory.

Maybe that's why they began heading for the exits.

But wait. Zip, zap. The Trojans are tied. It's overtime. The remaining Trojan faithful sat down.

Madison finally silenced Felling and the rest of the Lawrenceville supporters with a 74-68 overtime victory.

And after the game, when Graham had returned to a normal color in the cool of the locker room, he talked about how it felt to be seated at the feet of such a throng.

"It's like you are a player." he said. "You just go out and do your job."

"You mean you were relaxed during the whole thing, coach?" someone asked.

"Oh yeah," Graham said, smiling. "Didn't I look relaxed?"

Trojans spring an upsetting overtime

CHARLESTON — They had a li ttle basketball contest here Tuesday night.

And what a contest it was!

Not much, if you happen to be a Lawrenceville Indian fan, even though they did have more to cheer about for most of the game.

But an amazing comeback by the Madison Trojans gave them a stunning 74-68 upset victory over Lawrenceville, which went into the game ranked second in the state and left shaking its head and wondering what went wrong.

The victory means that Madison will move on to the Assembly Hall on the giant campus of the University of Illinois in Champaign to play in the Illinois Class A (small schools, enrollment of 750 or less) State Quarterfinals Friday against Timothy Christian out of Chicago, a team that made it to the "Final Four" last season and is known for its ability to slow down the flow of a game. Final scores in games involving Timothy Christian teams aren't usually very high. MAdison likes to run and run.

And run.

But it was Lawrenceville that was doing the running early here Tuesday night in he Charelston Super-Sectional in Lantz Gymnasium on the caampus of Eastern Illinois University. The Indians ran up an 18-8 lead at the end of the first quarter and appeared ready to drive on up the road a few miles to Champiagn and wait for Timothy Christian to show up.

But instead of that, it was Madison's Trojans who showed up. Late, but they showed up nonetheless.

Since they were able to stay within striking range of the Indians, the Trojans were never really out of the game, even though to most observers they were. But a youngster by the name of Patrick Joe Hatter caught fire.

He started hitting shots from all over, diving for loose balls. And Lawrenceville was shook.

Even so, the Trojans still had an eight-point deficit staring them in the face with less than a minute to go in the game.

Not to worry. They sent it into overtime and eventually won the game. Even though they never held the lead until the overtime period, the Trojans actually stalled out the final moments once they had it.

The game's final moments of regulation play were filled with more peaks and valleys for both teams than most people's hearts can stand.

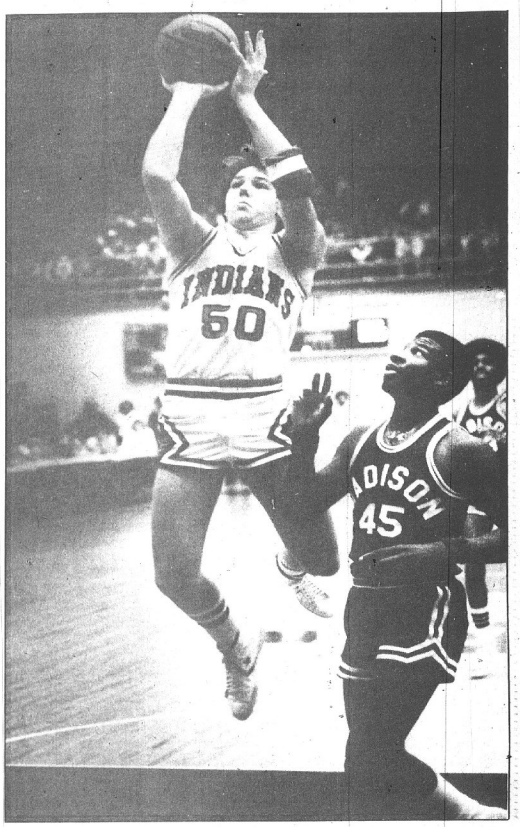

Missed free throws by Lawrenceville, near-costly fouls by Madison, last-second shots by Madison and Lawrenceville.

With the score tied at 62-62 and three seconds left in regulation, Madison threw the ball inbounds. But a Lawrenceville player tipped it, grabbed it, and lofted a last-second shot that was still in the air when the final gun sounded ending the regulation play.

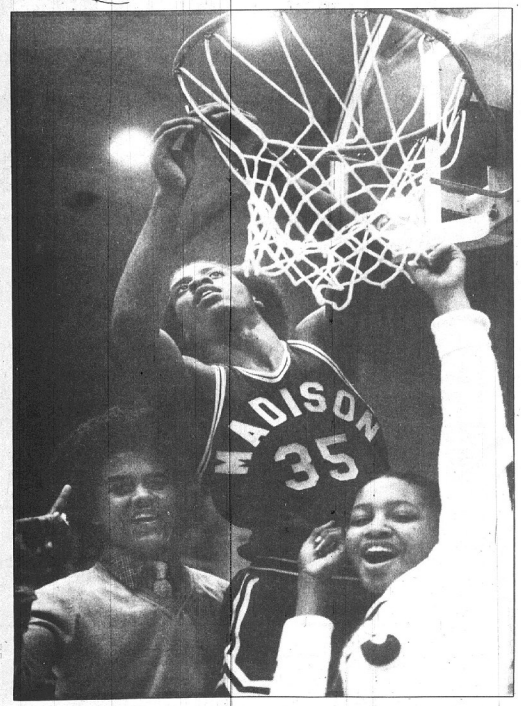

All eyes in the gymnasium were focused on the ball as it made its way through the air toward the basket, remembering Reggie Gardner's last-second 45-foot shot in 1975 that lofted Venice to a three-overtime vicfory over Carmi and sent the Red Devils on to the state championship.

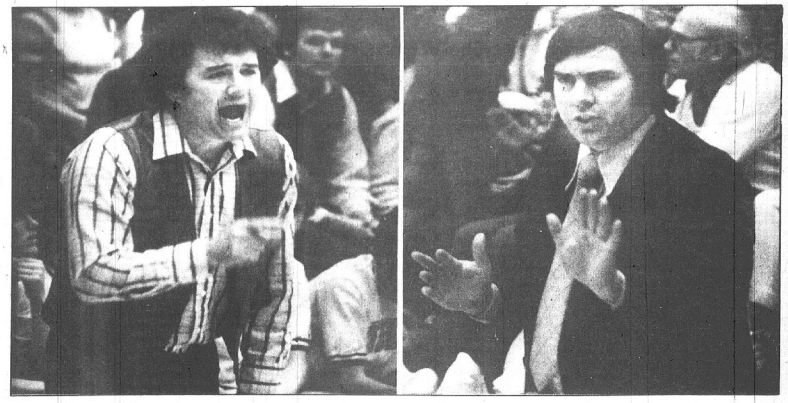

But fate was on the side of Madison. The ball hit the backboard harmlessly and bounced away.

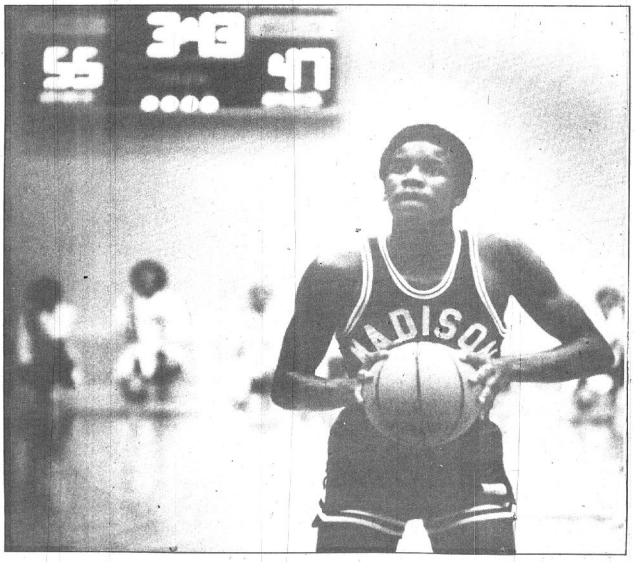

The last second heroics this time around belonged to Madison.

Absentee deadline Monday

Madison County Clerk Evelyn Bowles is reminding county residents that the last day voters may cast absentee ballots for Tuesday's primary election is Monday at 5 p.m. at her office in the Madison County Courthouse at Edwardsville.

For the convenience of those who will not be able to vote on election day, her office will be open Saturday from 9 a.m. to noon.

Persons who must vote an absentee ballot by mail should have someone obtain an application immediately from the clerk's office and bring it back to the office when it is completed. Under state law, the ballot then must be mailed to the absentee voter, but once it has been voted and sealed, a relative or friend of the voter may return it in person to the clerk's office by the deadline Monday afternoon.

Public discussion of resource conservation

A meeting for residents of Madison County to comment on the Resources Conservation Act will be held Tuesday, March 25, at 1 p.m. in the Farm Bureau Auditorium, Edwardsville.

A spokesman said, "The future of our soil and water resources depends on how wisely we use them now and in the future. Over the years, some serious problems have grown that threaten these resources. The Resources Conservation Act (RCA) will help us address these problems on non-federal land.

"The United States Department of Agriculture has established objectives for seven resource areas. They include soil resource quantity and quality, water quality, water supply and conservation, fish and wildlife habitat, upstream flood damage, energy conservation and related natural resources.

"There are also seven conservation strategies for public consideration. They include redirection of present programs, cross compliance, regional resource projects, state leadership, regulation, conservation performance bonus, and natural resource contracts."

Paul Krone, district conservationist, Soil Conservation Service, Madison County, 656-4710, will be explaining the strategies. He will not be advocating any one of them, but will go into detail on the seven approaches.

Individuals will be asked to make written comments and suggestions that day. Written comments are to be addressed to the RCA Response Analysis Center, P.O. Box 888, Athens, Ga. 30603.

Young lawyers plan outreach

A total of 10 young lawyers representing bar associations throughout Illinois met in Springfield this month to discuss programs of public service and other law-related activities. Attending from Granite City were Carol Frederick, John T. Papa and Mr. and Mrs. John Joseph Hopkins.

The program was the third annual Local Bar Outreach Meeting sponsored by the Illinois State Bar Association Young Lawyers Section.

Purpose of the meeting was to familiarize young lawyers with bar-related projects which could be implemented in their own communities.

Topics discussed at the Springfield Hilton Hotel included juvenile justice in Illinois, child abuse advocacy, and legal services for the mentally disabled.

Young lawyers attending "how to do" workshop sessions learned ways of providing improved legal services and initiating programs at the local level.

Romans 5:8 . . . "But God commendeth his love toward us, in that, while we were yet sinners, Christ died for us."

If, as the Scripture indicates, God commended His love to us while yet sinners, how much more does He after we accept Him as Saviour? I'm positive that no one has yet discovered how very much God loves us!

Not only does God want to supply our food, clothing, and shelter, but He also gives us eternal life. We may enjoy His blessings here every day of our lives and in eternity be in His presence ever more.

God has truly commended His love to us.

90-day jail term

Larry Tinker, 24, of the 2900 block of Indiana Ave., has been sentenced in Madison County Circuit Court to serve 30 months of probation, to serve 90 days in the Madison County Jail and to make restitution up to $2,000 after pleading guilty to two counts of aggravated battery. One count of armed violence was dismissed.

It was alleged that on Dec. 1, 1979, Tinker shot Sarki Nighohossian, 38, at Nighohossian's home the 1700 block of Chestnut St.

Nighohossian suffered bullet wounds to his left arm and shoulder when he was shot at least three times during a disagreement which allegedly followed a dice game.

Circuit Judge Victor J. Mosele pronounced sentence.

Film showing at Madison BAptist

A film entitled, "Suddenly The Light" on the life story of entertainer Beverly Massegee, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Sunday, March 16, at the First Baptist Church, 1667 Fifth St., Madison, according to host pastor, the Rev. Paul Davis.

Rev. Davis said the film depicts the singer at the summit of her career, an existance which led her to drug addiction and association with members of organized crime.

During a period of depression in her life she passed a church, went inside and after two other services committed her life to Christ, Rev. Davis added.

The minister said there is no admission charge to view the presentation which is a true story of the difference that faith in Christ can make in facing the reality of life and death.

Fined $170 in stabbing

James A. Parrott, 41, of the 2400 block of Ohio Avenue, has been sentenced in Madison County Circuit court to serve one year of probation, one week in the county jail and to pay a $170 fine after Parrott pleaded guilty to battery. The charge was reduced from aggravated battery, in return for the plea.

Parrott allegedly stabbed Roy Valencia, 28, of the 2200 block of Terminal Ave., three times with a pocketknife during a disturbance Jan. 17 at Curt's Drive-In, 1623 Madison Ave.

New proposal on business licenses

An ordinance setting new fees for city business licenses in Granite City is under consideration by the City Council as "the first step in beginning a new system (of licenses and permits) all the way down the line," Assistant City Inspector Jim Stack told the council Monday night.

An ordinance placed on first reading requires business licenses which range from $25 to $100 per store, depending on the type of merchandise or services sold in each.

Alderman Roy Poulos of the Third Ward said he is concerned the new ordinance will not be enforced. "They (the city's inspection department) can't enforce the ones we have now, because they don't have enough people. They are not enforcing building permits. We've got money out in ambulance bills, city (vehicle) stickers, sewer bills. We are not collecting all the money we should now," Poulos said.

He said he feels rummage sales are a good example. City ordinances require that anyone having a rummage sale purchase a permit, "but all you have to do is look in the Press-Record and you can see the people are not doing it," he contended.

Mayor Paul Schuler disagreed, saying, "Most aldermen police their wards. I have calls from aldermen all the time on rummage sales, wanting to know if they have a permit."

Poulos disagreed, saying, "It's not up to the aldermen. That's not our job. It is up to the city inspection department."

Alderman Sam Whitmer of the Second Ward said, "This is the first time the city has made a sincere attempt to collect business licenses. Let's give it a chance. The girls in Mr. Stevens' (City Clerk Robert W. Stevens) office have their fingers on this now."

Alderman Everett Morlen of the First Ward suggested that the city require a business license for each listing a store has in the Yellow Pages. He named one local retail store which sells lumber, jewelry, hardware and other items and suggested it be required to purchase a separate license for each department.

Stevens later said his understanding of the proposed ordinance is that each business will be required to purchase only one license. The license fee for department stores, for example, is set at $25, no matter how many departments, he pointed out.

Several questions were asked about the ordinance, such as the fee for pest control businesses, the topic was listed, but the fee had not been set. Alderman Warren Decatur noted the fee for electrical contractors was set at $100 in the proposed ordinance, but contended state law sets the limit cities can charge electrical contractors for business licenses at $25.

The aldermen agreed to put the ordinance on first reading for possible amendments before it is passed at the next council meeting.

The date for the next meeting was changed from Tuesday, March 18, to Wednesday, March 19, due to the primary election that Tuesday. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m. in the city council chambers of city hall.

Boothman being opposed by Peck

RICHARD PECK

Richard L. Peck, 54, of 2011 Sixth St., East Madison, is a candidate for Madison County Board District 25 in the Tuesday, March 18, Democratic primary.

An employee of the Norfolk and Western Railway Co. for 37 years, Peck holds the position of cashier.

He and his wife, Naomi, have two children.

He attended school in Madison and the Summers College of Commerce of East St. Louis.

Peck served with the U.S. Army in World War II in the American, European, African-Middle Eastern and Asiatic-Pacific theaters.

He is a former Nameoki Township tax collector and currently is Democratic committeeman for Precinct Two.

"I will enter the county board with an open mind. I will do my best to support the people of the district and I will do what I feel is right," Peck comments.

HOMER BOOTHMAN

Homer M. Boothman, 59, of 3208 Fairmont, State Park Place, is seeking re-election as District 25 County Board member and is a candidate for the Democratic nomination next Tuesday.

He has been a member of the board since 1972.

He was born in Washington Park and graduated from Collinsville High School.

Boothman has been Democratic committeeman of Nameoki Township Precinct Four since 1966.

Married and the father of five children, he has served as a State Park Baptist Church deacon and is a Mason.

Boothman has served on the sewer committee, finance committee and tax committee of the county board.

He advocates coordination between elected county officials and the members of the Madison County Board.

He has been active in the Parent-Teacher Association, scouting and the volunteer firemen's association.

Governor's planning council Parents Club program topic

The Quad-City Parents for Special Education organization hosted the Region and Subregion Governor's Planning Council on Developmental Disabilities meeting last week at Central Christian Church.

Highlight of the discussions focused on governor's planning council, which was created as the result of federal mandates contained in the Developmental Disabilities Act of 1970 and was later amended as the Developmental Disabilities Assistance and Bill of Rights Act P.L. 95-602.

The state D.D. Councils were developed to serve several purposes: to plan, monitor, evaluate, and advocate on behalf of all developmentally disabled persons, including preparing and submitting the state plan to the commissioner; to advise the governor on issues related to services for persons who have developmental disabilities; as a mechanism for the distribution of federal formula funds; and to review other agency plans that are submitted to the federal government.

In September 1975 the council created regional-subregional planning committees to function under the DD council planning committee. These committees were intended to serve as the mechanism through which the Illinois DD Council could stay in contact with local DD activities and could facilitate greater impact on local level DD services, it was announced.

Anita Becherer presided at the session which was attended by 20 people representing 10 counties.

She noted an assessment of four counties on particular needs of the developmental disabled projected the need for housing. Four local people, Barb Schmedake, Dorothy Lijewski, Carolyn Smoot and Melba Grady, served on the committee.

Priority will be given to the housing problem according to the committee report.

Mrs. Kay Hahne and Mrs. Grady are also named to the Madison County regional governor's council. Both women were appointed to a committee to continue an action plan to further priorities.

They announced at the meeting there is a need for input from area residents for the progress of the program.

A presentation concerning the Parents for Special Education background, their aims and programs was given by Mrs. Grady.

Refreshments were provided by Mrs. Hahne, Carolyn Smoot, Thelma Judy, Dorothy Rabon, Mrs. Grady and Dorothy Lijewski.

Educators to speak at county institute

The Madison County Teachers' Institute will be held at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville on Friday, March 21.

Among the presenters will be Granite City School District's Curriculum Coordinator, Warren Collins, speaking on "Minimal Competency Testing" and Emerson Elementary School's Principal, Alfred Wilson, speaking on "Today's News Shapes Tomorrow."

Also, serving as chairmen for other sessions are John Sikora, Casmir Krakowiecke and Helen Cook, all teachers in the Granite City system. It is expected that 3,500 educators will be attending this conference, while area students will enjoy a holiday, it was announced.

If your phone is broken, now you can take it to your PhoneCenter Store.

Now you don't have to wait for a repairperson if the Bell plug-in phone in your home needs repair. There's an easier way.

Simply take the broken phone, along with the cords, to your PhoneCenter Store. It will be replaced on the spot.

If you bring in a Design Line* phone that needs repair, you'll get a temporary phone until repairs are completed.

Here's what to do.

1 Make sure the phone that's not working right is a plug-in type.

2 Unplug it. Then check your other phones. If they're all working properly, the problem is probably in the phone you've just unplugged and not in the system.

If you don't have plug-in phones, or if you're not sure where the problem is, call Repair Service. The number is listed in the front of your phone book.

It's not often that a Bell phone breaks down. But when it happens, your PhoneCenter Store can help.

Customers with Family Plan or 2-party service should call Repair Service.

ARIES: (March 21 to April 19 — Also Aries Ascendant) — Resist impulsive decisions and take time to ponder or get an expert opinion. This holds true for both money and romance. Not the time to start new projects — clear up those already in progress. Compromise with family members.

TAURUS: (April 20 to May 20 — Also Taurus Ascendant) — Attend to routine matters at work — new projects or ideas probably won't get off the ground just now. Shore up family relationships by doing a little more than your share. Use gentle discipline with children.

GEMINI: (May 21 to June 20 — Also Gemini Ascendant) — Things may not move as fast as you would like, so avoid frustration by accepting the slower pace. Don't allow boredom to send you off on a reckless spending spree. Leave new or large projects alone — start them at a later date.

CANCER: (June 21 to July 22 — Also Cancer Ascendant) — Your intimate relationships could come into full bloom now. Some may hear from an old lover, others make a romance more permanent. Financial advice from friends is somewhat risky now, so don't be talked into parting with money.

LEO: (July 23 to Aug. 22 — Also Leo Ascendant) — Not the time to speculate with money, especially on the advice of friends. Associates may be uncooperative and things move more slowly than you would like. Curb your temper and feelings of hostility. Tie up the loose ends at work.

VIRGO: (Aug. 23 to Sept. 22 — Also Virgo Ascendant) — Control your impatience when others' and your own affairs could move more slowly than you'd like. Hold off starting new ventures and stay with routine tasks. Go over finances — bring bank balances up to date.

LIBRA: (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22 — Also Libra Ascendant) — Don't procrastinate about getting your domestic or romantic life on an even keel. Don't argue or be critical. Channel energy toward yoyr goals and forge ahead. Avoid extravagance and don't take chances on speculative ventures.

SCORPIO: (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21 — Also Scorpio Ascendant) — Good time to improve your home environment with the help of mate or partner. Be considerate of loved ones and working associates — resist being too self-indulgent. Stick to your budget and don't take chances with finances.

SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21 — Also Sagittarius Ascendant) —Romance could rush into your life and give you an ego boost. Don't let money burn a hole in your pocket — shop wisely. Work matters go well and you should be shown respect for your valuable efforts.

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22 to Jan. 19 — Also Capricorn Ascendant) — Discipline yourself to get on more solid ground financially. Extra responsibilities at work could make you resentful, but there's really nothing you can do about it, so don't lose your temper. Romance could become fulfilling.

AQUARIUS: (Jan. 20 to Feb. 18 — Also Aquarius Ascendant) — Don't try to get stable financially by falling for speculative, "get-quick-rich" schemes. Get good professional advice before parting with a dime! Co-workers are cooperative, but you may have to give in on the home front.

PISCES: (Feb. 19 to March 20 — Also Pisces Ascendant) — Others feel your magnetism and will come to you if you aren't too aggressive. Use your creativity in romance and things will go your way. Resolve any disagreements with mate or partner. Not a good time to travel.

Mrs. Dubach dies at 69

Conference on local history

Southwestern Illinois is "waist deep" in historical significance.

It contains the sites of the first permanent European settlements from which the state grew. The combination of ethnic variety, coal mines and the Mississippi River make the region unique.

That uniqueness will be explored during a conference on local and community history on March 26, 27 and 28. The conference is sponsored by the department of historical studies at SIUE and the Illinois Humanities Council, an agency of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

Anyone interested in local and community history is invited to attend. All sessions will be held in the Madison Room of the University Center.

Earl Lazerson, acting president of SIUE, and Herbert H. Rosenthal, chairman of the department of history, will open the conference March 26 at 9:30 a.m. The first session will be on ethnic problems in southwestern Illinois history. Rose Jo Boyln, a descendant of pre-Revolutionary families of St. Clair County, will chair the session.

Donald Lewis, retired professor at Lewis and Clark and McKendree colleges, will discuss "Governor Edward Coles and Slavery."

At the same session, Irving Dillard, a retired professor of journalism at Princeton University, will talk about "The Lynching of Robert Paul Prager in World War I: An Instance of Anti-German Hysteria."

At 2 p.m., there will be a panel discussion on the practices, uses, and misuses of oral history.

Panelists will include professors Jules Zanger of SIUE, Martin Towey of St. Louis U. and George Rawick of the Univeesity of Missouri at St. Louis. Rawick is editor of a multi-volume work dealing with the reminiscences of former slaves—information collected by the Works Project Administration (WPA) during the 1930s.

"What can you learn from a thimble?" Several prominent panelists will try to answer that question on March 27 at 9:30 a.m.

SIUE English professor John L. Oldani will talk about quilt-making. Howard Miller of the University of Missouri at St. Louis, author of works on American philanthropy, the Eads Bridge, and the financing of scientific research, will discuss the uses of historical artifacts. And there will be a quilt exhibition at this session.

Charles Hosmer, one of the country's leading historians of the architectural preservation movement, and Gerhardt Kramer, a St. Louis architect actively involved in reconstruction of St. Louis area landmarks, will focus on history and architecture March 27 at 1:30 p.m.

On March 28 at 9:30 a.m., Carl R. Baldwin, author of "Echoes of Their Voices," will begin the session on the Mississippi River with a talk on East St. Louis ferries. Susan Eastman will discuss Alton ferries and Paul Williams of Principia College will talk about a leading river painter, Frederick Oates Sylvester.

The final session will center around a paper by Victor Hicken on coal mining radicalism in southwestern Illinois. He is an Illinois Historian from Western Illinois U.

Thompson heads law enforcement area commission

The Southwestern Illinois Law Enforcement Commission board of directors has elected the following as officers for 1980:

Frank H. Thompson, president, Greenville, member of the Bond County Board and professor at Greenville College.

William A. Perkes, first vice-president, Trenton, member of Clinton County Board, chairman of Personnel Committee and member of the Finance Committee.

Fred Dalton, second vice-president, Collinsville, vice-chairman of Madison County Board and member of the Finance Committee.

John O. Huetsch, treasurer, Waterloo, Mayor of the City of Waterloo in Monroe County.

Roger Kaufhold, secretary, Belleville, member of the St. Clair County Board and its Finance Committee.

SILEC is the local agency of Bond, Clinton, Madison, Monroe, Randolph, St. Clair and Washington counties providing assistance to police, sheriffs and other local-level juvenile and adult administration-of-justice agencies.

SILEC operates the Regional Mobile Team Training Program, which provides in-service training to peace officers and other practictioners dealing with public safety and the administration of justice.

More trade with People's Republic of China likely

By SAM SMITH

Normalization of relations between the United States and the People's Republic of China has major implications for the academic, industrial, business and cultural institutions of this metropolitan area, according to Chai Zemin, ambassador to the United States.

He was the keynote speaker at the weekend conference of national, state and regional leaders, sponsored by Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

More than 300 persons attending the conference at the Breckenridge Inn learned of plans for exchanges of scholars; negotiations for sale of McDonnell Douglas DC-9 airliners to the Chinese; invitations for symphony, opera and drama companies from the U.S. and China to exchange national tours; increasing trade agreements; and cooperation among scientists and academicians in each country on hundreds of projects, including medicine and public health, high-energy physics, meteorology, and the marine sciences.

Acting President Earl Lazerson of SIUE hailed the conference on Sino-American relations as "a significant step toward peace, prosperity and cultural advancement."

Ambassador Chai spoke with "confidence and optimism" about the future: "Our two countries have embarked on new frontiers of political, economic, scientific and technological importance. Let us work hand in hand to ensure a stable and sustained development of Sino-U.S. relations throughout the entire eighties."

Others who acclaimed the conference as a success included Charles W. Freeman Jr., director of the Office of The People's Republic of China and Mongolia Affairs for the U.S. Department of State.

He said, "Two years ago, every page in the U.S.-Chinese relations book was blank. Normalization and its results opened Chapter I. Now, we in government, academia and business must write the rest of the book."

Freeman said the U.S. and China are currently discussing cooperation in six new areas of science and technology, including transportation, housing, population and statistics.

He predicted major expansion in governmental contacts, trade, academic exchanges and cultural relations in the year ahead.

Conferees learned that about 60 Chinese delegations — most concerned with trade, science or scholarship — visit the United States each month. Several hundred American scholars are now studying, teaching and doing research in Chinese institutions, and more than 1,400 Chinese scholars and students have come to this country in the past 15 months.

Trade between the U.S. and China reached $2.2 billion last year — an increase of 60 percent over 1978. This year, the figure is expected to climb to $3 billion, according to State Department estimates.

In addition to numerous Chinese students who are expected to attend St. Louis area institutions of higher education, academic and cultural exchanges will be highlighted by visits of performing artists to each country.

Stanley Spector, director of the Office of International Studies at Washington University, reported the St. Louis Symphony has been invited to tour China, and he said opera and drama companies also will be invited.

Ambassador Chai emphasized that this area has made significant contributions to the development of Sino-U.S. relations. "St. Louis has now established a friendship city relationship with Nanjing, and it will surely make a further contribution to developing Sino-U.S. relations," he said.

"Thanks to the efforts of our two governments, the cooperation and exchanges in the political, economic, scientific and technological, cultural and educational fields are going well with a good record."

The ambassador warned that Russia is a threat to world peace.

"The Soviet invasion of Afghanistan once again proves that the Soviet Union is the main source of danger of war and aggression," he declared.

"Starting from the 1960s through the 1970s, the Soviet Union has degenerated into a social-imperialist power practicing hegemonism under the signboard of socialism.

"Its expansionist ambitions are becoming ever greater along with the lopsided development of its military strength.

"We are convinced that world peace is not beyond hope so long as we unite, dare to oppose Soviet hegemonism, know how to oppose it, and take effective steps to do so.

"We must make it absolutely clear to the Soviet leadership that its aggression, intervention and subversion in Afghanistan and other countries are, totally unacceptable.

"It must withdraw all its troops from Afghanistan, pull back its claws of aggression, and let the Afghanistan people determine their own destiny free from outside interference."

Praising the efforts of SIUE and other St. Louis institutions in holding the conference, Ambassador Chai said, "The increasingly frequent contacts between peoples from all walks of life of the two countries have greatly promoted friendship between the two peoples.

"Groups of American and Chinese scholars, postgraduates and undergraduates, have arrived in our respective countries, studying, teaching and doing research.

"More and more research institutions and academic organizations of the two countries have established ties, starting academic exchanges in areas ranging from the natural sciences to the social sciences.

"There exists a traditional friendship of long-standing between the Chinese and American peoples. Today, our two peoples need to learn from each other, make up each other's deficiencies, and supply each other's wants in order to build up our countries.

"The advanced industry, agriculture and science and technology developed by the American people can be of assistance to China's drive for modernization, while China's abundant resources and vast market can also bring the United States benefits," the ambassador said.

The visiting envoy acknowledged there are differences between the two countries in social systems and ideology, but he said a spirit of cooperation will have an important bearing "not only on the interests of our two peoples, but also on peace, security and stability in the Asia-Pacific region and the world at large."

Pres. Lazerson agreed with the ambassador that "there are strong bonds that unite the people of China and the United States: bonds of common humanity, of our aspirations for better lives for our children and loved ones, reverence for past achievements, and the desire for peace and prosperity in the future.

"We stand ready to cooperate with you in those universal, scholarly eneavors of the future which will aid all," the president said.

Nine other area institutions and organizations cooperated with SIUE in sponsoring the conference. Coordinator for SIUE was Gene T. Hsiao, a native of China and professor of government at the local university.

Crivello lung association's area director

GENE CRIVELLO

Gene Crivello of Alton has been appointed regional director of the Lewis-Clark Lung Association with offices in Wood River. He will be responsible for the activities and programs of the local Lung Association in Madison, Jersey and Calhoun counties.

He has had much experience, having served as personnel director for Central Hardware for 14 years, and for the past seven years as an executive director for the American Cancer Society.

The Lung Association is formely the Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association and is an affiliate of the American Lung Association, the nation's oldest voluntary health organization (75 years).

The Lewis-Clark Lung Association conducts activities in four major areas: community services, public health education, professional education and training, and research.

Health problems to which major emphasis is given include: tuberculosis, pediatric lung disease, chronic obstructive lung disease, smoking, air pollution, occupational health, community health, tuberculosis.

Activities vary according to the particular needs of communities and individuals, but all are geared to one primary aim: prevention and control of lung disease.

Seminars are held for medical and allied medical people, and workshops for nurses, schools, public health agencies, industry, and tuberculosis sanatorium boards.

There are hospital in-service programs, on-the-job training for college health students, smoking cessation clinics, cooperative programs aimed at providing help to teachers and students about lung disease, smoking and air pollution, pediatric asthma programs, breath of life clubs, breathing function tests, screening and "breathline," a toll-free phone to help the public regarding lung problems.

A speakers' bureau, slides, films, training in "How to save a choking victim," distribution of printed, filmed and broadcast information, and research to find answers to respiratory conditions also are part of the program.

President of the board of directors of the Lung Association here is attorney J. Lawrence Keshner.

Welding equipment is stolen

Items valued at about $2,610, primarily welding equipment, were stolen from Midwest Steel, 1107 W. 22nd St., it was discovered Monday. Entry was believed gained through an overhood door which was left unlocked during the weekend.

A rear door was raised manually and braced open with a piece of steel. A plexiglass window was broken to gain entry into one office from which a portable power unit worth $600 was taken.

Entry to another office was gained by using a metal pole to pry the bolt from a steel door. Filing cabinets in that office were searched and two metal cash boxes were removed.

One cash box was broken open and about $10 was removed. Attempts to open the second cash box were unsuccessful. Both were left in the office.

Stolen from the shop were a welding torch, two gauges, 50 feet of welding hoses, an arc welder, a come-a-long and two heavy-duty grinders.

The wiring and engine of a crane also were damaged.

STATE PARKS CHOOSE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

The Illinois Association of Park Districts board has selected Dr. Ted Flickinger, Mount Prospect, regional director of the National Recreation and Park Association, Great Lakes Region, to assume the duties of executive director of the state association.

Prior to joining the NRPA, he was a professor at Ohio State University and director of the Parks and Recreation Department in Bexley, Ohio, for which he won the national gold medal award in 1973 for excellence in park and recreation management. He and his wife, Judy, and son and daughter, Brett and Amy, will reside in Springfield.

GROUP TO APPEAR

The Foggy River Boys will appear in concert at the North High gymnasium Friday at 8 p.m. The concert is being sponsored by the Junior High Youth Fellowship of St. John United Church of Christ. The cost of admission is $4. Tickets may be purchased by calling the church office at 877-6060, and they will be available at the door.

Crime down during month in Madison

Citizen cooperation, good police work and a little help from bad weather are the three areas—Madison Chief of Police Donald Bridick has told the Madison City Council—that accounted for a 42 percent reduction in crime during February 1980 compared to February 1979.

Officer William Weidner led the department in the number of arrest made during the month, followed by Officer Gary Marsala.

Major areas of decrease, with the February 1979 figure given first and followed by the same month in 1980, are: assault and battery 6-3, burglary 10-4 and theft, 13-7.

Auto thefts increased by one and there were no criminal homicides or forcible rapes in February of either year.

There was one robbery in each February.

There were 23 juvenile arrests for other than traffic and 21 juvenile traffic arrests.

During February 1980, police tallied 2,143 radio, telephone and log entries.

The Humane Division had a total of 45 service calls, with 26 dogs and three cats picked up.

The alarm division had 41 accidental alarms.

"Citizen cooperation can be and is a major factor in reduction of crime. People in Madison are very good and getting better in calling us when they see something that just does not set well with them," Chief Bridick said.

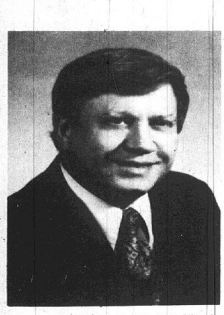

MAN REPORTS THEFT

Ray Gene, 2819 E. 25th St., told police at 3 p.m. Monday that he had been asleep in his home for about three hours and, when he awoke, he was missing about $120 in cash from his trousers pocket. The trousers had been thrown under the bed; he believes he left the front door of the house unlocked.

NOW, AN UNBEATABLE NO-RISK OFFER AT GRANITE CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH YOUR MONEY BACK IF NOT SATISFIED!

CHECK THESE FEATURES OF THE CHRYSLER GUARANTEES.

Horizon · LeBARON · SATISFACTION OR YOUR MONEY-BACK GUARANTEE · Sapporo II · CHRYSLER

The only 30-day/1,000 mile money-back guarantee.

Buy one of our new 1980 passenger cars. Drive it up to 30 days or 1,000 miles, whichever comes first. If you're not completely satisfied, you'll get your money back. But not the finance and insurance charges. All you do is bring your vehicle back to us in good condition without metal damage. When we receive clear title, we return your money. Refund on traded vehicle may be lower than the trade-in allowance.

Cordoba · Plymouth · CHAMP · Volare

Undecided about buying? Take a test drive and get $50!

Test drive one of our new 1980 passenger cars. Buy or lease one of ours or any qualifying new car from one of our competitors within thirty days. Then return the test drive certificate with proof of purchase or lease. And the fifty dollars is yours.

These New Chrysler Corporation commitments apply to new 1980 vehicles for personal use only. See us for all the details.

YOUR MONEY BACK, PLUS A $50 TEST DRIVE OFFER. TWO FEATURES YOU CAN'T GET FROM FORD, GM OR THE IMPORTS. AND TWO GREAT REASONS TO SEE US RIGHT AWAY!

ALL OF THIS PLUS AN EXTRA $450.00 REBATE!!

Notice for Publication

TO: BEULA FROST (MOTHER OF ROBERT A. FROST, A MINOR), and to All Whom It May Concern:
No. 80-J-87

Take notice that on the 7th day of March, 1980, a petition was filed under the Juvenile Court Act by Asst. State's Atty. David A. Virgin in the Circuit Court of Madison County entitled 'In the interest of ROBERT A. FROST, a minor,' and that in Circuit courtroom at Edwardsville on the 21st day of March at the hour of 1:00 p.m., or as soon thereafter as this cause may be heard, an adjudicatory hearing will be held upon the petition to have the child declared to be a ward of the court under that Act. The court has authority in this proceeding to take from you the custody and guardianship of the minor, and to appoint a guardian with power to consent to adoption of the minor.

Now, unless you appear at the hearing and show cause against the petition, the petition may be taken for confessed as against you and each of you, and an order, judgment or decree entered.

Pollution Variance

B.E.R.D.S., a partnership which owns the apartment building known as the Ralph Building located at 1208 Niedringhaus Avenue, Granite City, Illinois has filed with the Pollution Control Board a petition for variance. Title IX of the Environmental Protection Act provides for individual variances upon proof by the Petitioner that compliance with specific provisions of the Act, related regulations or Board orders would impose upon the Petitioner alleges such a hardship, and requests a variance from Rules 203 and 206(b) of Chapter 2 of the PCB's Air Pollution Control Regulations for the incinerator located in the above-cited building.

The Environmental Protection Agency which is required by law to make a formal recommendation to the Pollution Control Board whether to grant or deny the variance, solicits the views of persons who might be adversely affected by the granting of the variance. Any comments or inquiries should be addressed to: Robert C. Sharpe, Technical Advisor, Illinois E.P.A., 2200 Churchill Road, Springfield, Illinois 62706.

Objections to the petition must be filed in writing with the Clerk of the Pollution Control Board, 309 West Washington Street, Chicago, Illinois 60606, referring to PCB No. 80-36.

O'Neal would disclose his tax data as senator

Lieutenant Governor Dave O'Neal, a candidate for the Republican nomination for the United States Senate, has announced he would take specific actions as a senator to insure the public trust. He made the statement at a news conference held in Chicago.

O'Neal said, "In my travels throughout the state, I have found the voters most want to have their elected officials be people in whom they can reasonably place their trust. Nothing is more important to them.

"Every April 15, when the Internal Revenue Service gets a copy of my income tax returns, I will also release it to the public."

He added, "There is far too much junketing being done by U.S. senators, and it is costing the taxpayers a lot of money. I will not be a part of government financed foreign vacations. If it is necessary to travel to the Soviet Union, I will not spend three days on the French Riviera on my way back to the U.S.

"I believe the job of a senator is service. This means being available to debate and vote on the Senate floor. Voting is the most important way a senator has to express the desires of his constituents. It is what a senator is paid to do.

"I am not going to promise I will be present for each and every roll call; emergencies do occur. I will strive to maintain a 95 percent attendance record.

"If any citizen wants a signed copy of these commitments, all that person need do is contact my campaign headquarters. It is absolutely essential the residents of Illinois know that their elected officials merit their trust."

O'Neal says his campaign has raised more than $200,000 from more than 3,000 different contributors.

For the period of Jan. 1, 1980, through Feb. 27, the period the latest Federal Election Commission (FEC) report covers, the O'Neal campaign reported receipts of $104,079.

Aluminum-from fly ash?

Someday coal wastes may be a valuable source of aluminum. An Energy Research and Development Administration official said recently, "Complete recovery of the aluminum found in U.S. coal fly ash could provide the amount of U.S. aluminum now extracted from foreign ores."

Recycled Copper

Almost 2 million tons of recycled copper will have been used by U.S. industry during 1979 — about 50 percent of the total copper raw material input, as compared to 46.7 percent in 1978. — CNS
